Donora Leaders Hear 'Pep Talk' About Future

Ellwood City Industrial Story Told; Diversification Is Urged

A cross-section of Donora's people listened to a series of "pep talks" last night designed to "pull the town up by its bootstraps."

The speakers included R. J. Shill, executive director of the Ellwood City Chamber of Commerce; L. F. McGlincy, district manager of U.S. Steel operations; Albert Delsandro, burgess-elect, and representatives of labor, business and industry.

Shill related the dramatic story of Ellwood City; McGlincy reaffirmed his confidence in Donora; and Delsandro issued a stirring challenge to the 300 persons who jammed the St. Dominic's Social Center for the dinner meeting.

A former football coach, Shill told how Ellwood City, faced with the prospect of becoming a ghost town, rallied its resources to attract new and diversified industry.

City Is Shocked

"In 1946, we were a one industry town," Shill said. "Our people were smug and complacent. We had no merchants, just shopkeeper who waited for payday to roll around. Then we were startled by the news that our only industry — National Tube — planned to relocate in two and one half years."

Shill said that the shocking news stirred Ellwood City residents to action.

"Determined to keep Ellwood City from becoming a ghost town, we developed a master plan to diversify our industry," Shill related. "But first we knew we had to make our community attractive for new industry."

The speaker told how "we cleaned our Chamber of Commerce of stuffed-shirt directors; improved our school system, supported our two hospitals and organized a long-range recreational system."

The next step was to form the Ellwood City Industrial Corp. In two days' Ellwood City residents contributed $66,000 to finance the project.

Project Paid Off

Shill said that community's architects, attorneys and realtors worked free of charge in behalf of the new association. Land was purchased and developed for small industry.

It was then that Ellwood City publicized its plans in national magazines and invited industry to locate there.

"We asked incoming industry to invest one-third in buildings," Shill said. "The rest we put on a ten-year amortization basis."

The project paid off. No less than 31 light industries of all types have located in Ellwood City. Today the annual payroll is $21,000,000 more than it was when the community was a "one-industry town."

"Let me give you one word of advice," Shill said. "One of your earliest projects should be better highways to your community. One-half of our new industries came to Ellwood City because of the nearby Pennsylvania Turnpike."

Shill said Donora now has more assets than Ellwood City did in 1946.

"You already have one solid industry," he said. "You have river transportation, two good railroads and, most important, you have land. There's no reason why

Fatal Accident Near New Eagle; Woman Is Killed

A 57-year-old New Eagle woman was fatally injured in one of three motor accidents blamed on icy roads in the district yesterday, state police reported today.

Dead is Mrs. Anna Reichel. She died in Monongahela Memorial Hospital at 6:40 p. m., shortly after a traffic collision on Route 88 between New Eagle and Finleyville.

Her husband, Stanley, 69, suffered severe chest and shoulder injuries. He was treated at Monongahela Memorial hospital and later transferred to West Penn Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Police said an automobile driven by Irvin Happe, 25, Pittsburgh, was attempting to make a curve when the car skidded on an icy stretch and smashed into the oncoming car operated by Reichel.

Happe suffered minor injuries.

In another accident attributed to ice-slick roads, Daryle E. Backstrom, 30, West Newton, was thrown from a truck she was riding when the vehicle went out of control and hit an embankment on Route 88 just north of Charleroi about 3 p. m. yesterday.

She was admitted to Charleroi-Monessen Hospital suffering a possible fracture of the skull. Her condition was listed as "fair" this morning.

The driver of the truck was

Student Councils To 'Mop Up' for Community Fund

Student Councils at the Monessen Junior and Senior High Schools have offered to "mop up" for the 1957 Community Fund campaign.

Tomorrow, 50 members of the two student organizations will canvas the city in an effort to put the campaign "over the top".

The students will contact all non-contributors. They will try to raise the $4,000 needed to reach the fund goal of $29,975.

Alfred Hazelbaker, Junior High principal, said students will present credentials when making their calls. Each has been instructed as to the intent and scope of the Community Fund, Hazelbaker said.

The students, themselves, offered to assume the "mop-up" duties during a meeting of the two councils yesterday.

It was also agreed to hold the school's annual variety show on Jan. 16.

The Senior High Student Council was invited to send acts to a forthcoming show at Veterans Hospital in Oakland.

The Council also disclosed plans to award letters to graduating seniors who have been members of the organization.

12 Dead In Georgia Explosion

VILLA RICA, Ga. (UP)—Civil Defense crews moved into the devastated heart of this small textile town today to clear debris and hunt possible other victims of a gas explosion that killed at least 12 persons.

Organized teams replaced the frenzied and at times haphazard search Thursday in the smoldering wake of the blast that leveled five buildings.

John Bailey, a city councilman who worked night-long with Civil Defense officials and other authorities in counting the toll said 12 bodies had been found and identified, and 14 persons were hospitalized.

Mortuary Check

Civil Defense officials had placed the death count at 16 but apparently their figures had contained some duplications. United Press completed a thorough check of mortuaries within a 50-mile radius of Villa Rica this morning and it appeared that the count of 12 was accurate unless further victims were found in the rubble of the blasted buildings.

The blast, followed by fire, came in mid-morning Thursday, when the town's business section was crowded with shoppers. Investigators said it apparently was caused by a leaking gas line in a drug store on the main street.

The drug store is a favorite eating place of textile workers, one resident told United Press, and the blast occurred about 30 minutes before the store would have been filled with customers.

National Guardsmen patrolled the blast area during the night to prevent looting and the section was roped off to keep away hundreds of persons who flocked in to watch the search.

One of the last bodies recovered Thursday was that of Bobby Roberts, 12, found in a dentist chair which had been buried in the rubble.

Sues West Penn; Says 14 Trees Chopped Down

A Rostraver Twp. man has filed suit against the West Penn Power Co. for allegedly chopping down 14 trees on his property.

The unusual suit was filed in Washington County Court by Clarence Finley, who is seeking $2,000 in damages.

Finley states in his complaint that he entered into an agreement with the West Penn Power Co. on April 3 for a right-of-way over his property. Finley contends that he specifically requested that its trees should not be removed.

In spite of this agreement, West Penn cut down the trees, Finley avers.

The suit describes the trees as elms, sweet cherry, wild cherry and locust. Finley states he lost 1500 board feet of lumber as a result of the tree removal.

The right-of-way in question is that leading to the Keystone Homes factory near Rehoboth Church, according to the suit.

Lynch Magee

ALCOA PRESIDENT DELIVERS ADDRESS — Frank L. Magee, president of Aluminum Company of America, gave the principal address at the 15th annual banquet of the Westmoreland County Branch, Pennsylvania Economy League, last night at Mountain View Hotel, near Greensburg. Charles McKenna Lynch Jr. is chairman of the County branch. A large delegation of Monessen district persons attended.

Alcoa Head Says Industries, Communities Must Cooperate

"A healthy and cooperative atmosphere must exist between industry and the community in which it is located if both are to benefit," Frank L. Magee, president of the Aluminum Company of America, said in an address last night.

Speaking before the Westmoreland County branch of the Pennsylvania Economy League at a banquet at Mountain View Hotel near Greensburg, the ALCOA leader said that industry must carry "its fair share of civic responsibility and civic leaders must cooperate with industry in order to have that healthful atmosphere, that progressive spirit of cooperation."

He traced the history of ALCOA plants in New Kensington and told of the "troublesome days" the company faced following World War II. He then went on to tell how the company and New Kensington civic leaders worked together "and finally worked out the many problems facing us."

'On the Scene'

He said one of the main reasons for ALCOA'S success at New Kensington is that "we found out that you can't fight your company's fight and growth from an office. We knew we had to be on the scene to accomplish things.

"You can't make decisions and run a plant from the 30th floor of a tall building in Pittsburgh. You have to be on scene of operations to get on top of things...to get things done," Magee declared.

In another part of his talk, Magee said:

"Unreasonable taxes can cause an industry to founder as quickly as unreasonable labor rates or any other disproportionate cost by which it loses its competitive position."

The stability of state and local tax structures is of vital importance to industry when deciding on locations for new or expanding sites, he stated.

"In these days of high costs, both in business and government, it is more important than ever that sound policies be followed in establishing tax rates, and that every effort be made to keep the cost of governmental services low," he added.

Close cooperation between business and government is increasingly important to keep the existing economic balance, as is the cooperation of labor in keeping productivity at adequate level, Magee stated. He cited evidence of considerable statewide progress along these lines in the last session of the Pennsylvania legislature, when manufacturers were granted substantial tax relief in

Bad Weather Delaying Work On Schoonmaker

Inclement weather is delaying work on Schoonmaker Ave., Monessen, but the contractor still hopes to have a section of the road open to traffic by mid-December, it was learned today.

Richard Belan, acting city engineer, said that forms have already been constructed from 17th St. to Morgan Ave.

"They will begin pouring concrete next week if the weather improves," Belan said. "It all depends on the weather now; the past few days have practically stalled operations."

Belan said the contractor, Frank Donatelli of Pittsburgh, still feels part of Schoonmaker will be completed to 12th St. by mid-December.

"Actually the project is on schedule despite the weather delays," Belan said. "However they will need good weather the next couple of days to stay on schedule."

The Schoonmaker project is being financed largely by the state since the avenue carries Route 906 north through Monessen.

Charleroi Boys Held in Theft At Bellmar High

Four teen-aged boys from Charleroi will be turned over to juvenile authorities for further questioning in connection with a recent theft at Bellmar High School, North Belle Vernon Police Chief Ed Anthony disclosed today.

"We are satisfied that these boys took part in the theft even though none has confessed," Anthony said.

According to police, a radio and $2.40 were stolen from the high school during the night of Nov. 27. The thieves gained admission by smashing two windows in the school office. Also damaged was a window in the biology room.

The money was taken from a pop machine, Anthony said.

Registration for Special Election Not Permitted

No new vote registrations will be accepted for the special election to be held Jan. 21 to fill the vacancy created by the death of Congressman Augustine B. Kelley, Westmoreland County.

This ruling was announced following an executive meeting of Westmoreland County commissioners and registration commission yesterday, Robert P. DeLotto, registration office chief, reported.

DeLotto told the commission that inasmuch as a special election must, according to the election laws be conducted under the same rules and regulations of procedure as a November general or municipal election, the 50-day ruling must apply and no new registrations, change of address cards, or party affiliations can be accepted.

The chief registrar quoted Johnston's Election Guide, Section 1800 on Special Elections in making the report and said that his office was acting on the advice and counsel of P.K. Jones, county solicitor, and in full accord with W. Everett Noel, chief clerk. He went on to add that his office had checked with the Allegheny County Registration Office and the federal courts in clarifying the ruling for special elections.

Delotto stated that the rules

Vanguard Blows Up on Stand; No One Hurt

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UP) — The U. S. effort to launch a satellite was a failure today. A moon-carrying Vanguard rocket failed to get off the ground when efforts were made to launch it.

Flame and smoke belched from the silvery missile when Paul Karpisac, a young propulsion engineer, touched the button that activated the liquid-oxygen fed engines of the Vanguard.

A heavy smoke pall drifted inland.

The Vanguard, its black-pointed silver nose pointed skyward, remained in its launching pad.

The Defense Department announced in Washington that Vanguard blew up on its launching stand but that personnel at the site of the fresh failure in U.S. satellite efforts apparently escaped injury.

An all-out effort, ordered by President Eisenhower and the highest defense officials of the nation, had gone into the crash program for getting a U.S. moon into an orbit around the earth.

Russia now has two satellites whizzing around the earth.

A Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientist said today he expects the Russians to launch a third satellite within a few days.

Propaganda Blow

All was thought to be in readiness today for a successful U.S. takeoff. An hours-long count-down or final check off of parts in the Vanguard started last midnight. The most minute care had been taken to make certain it would go this time. A victory would have been a tremendous propaganda triumph and would have once more raised the U.S. scientific team in the eyes of its allies abroad.

But when the historic moment came, a tremendous orange ball of flame at the base of the missile, followed by an awesome black cloud of smoke signalled failure.

Minutes later, pelicans wheeled over the base at Cape Canaveral—the only sign of aerial activity visible to hundreds of newsmen and spectators who had gathered on the beach to witness the event.

Dr. John P. Hagen, chief of the satellite project, said through a spokesman that the trouble developed two seconds after the Vanguard rocket was fired.

The spokesman said there was a "loss of chamber pressure in the first stage" of the three-stage 72-foot rocket.

"Then the rocket fell back on the stand, toppled over toward the water—that is toward the east—and exploded," the spokesman said.

"The fire is now out," he said of the fire which followed the explosion on the launching pad.

The spokesman said loss of chamber pressure means "loss of thrust"—the power that hurls a rocket into space.

"The trouble was in the first

Solicitation in Schools Discussed By Liaison Group

Solicitation made in the schools was discussed last night when the Liaison Council of the Monessen School District met in the offices of Dr. Joseph Pallone, superintendent of schools.

There was considerable discussion concerning the number of donations students are required to make during the year's time exclusive of any school activity. The council recommended that school officials make some effort to have only one solicitation of charity funds during the year.

The amount collected should then be designated to the various drives as the occasion arises. There would be no other collection of either money or articles among the students.

The council discussed the homework problem, and it was decided that homework given at the present time is not excessive and should cause no student any difficulty. School officials advised that a certain amount of school work at home is needed by the student Council also suggested that the distribution of booklets illustrating various products among the students should be discontinued.

Dr. Pallone questioned the fact that student insurance is not as popular among local families as it should be. Council discussed the advantages offered in this program for 12 months a year instead of only during the school term. It was decided that next term before the policies are sent home there will be considerable emphasis placed on the proposed program.

Mrs. John Stieska conducted the session during which there were other minor discussions.

The Liaison Council takes no action on any matter, and is permitted only to make suggestions.

Mischief Hearing Against Seven Youths Postponed

The hearing on malicious mischief charges against seven California young men was postponed last night until next Thursday, Justice of the Peace Frank Cantoni, Charleroi, said today.

The men are charged with breaking windows in the home of Peter T. Sance, 906 Lincoln Ave., Charleroi, Thursday morning, Nov. 28. Sance is a Pittsburgh Steel Co. executive.

Reportedly, an expensive picture window and other windows were broken.

Being held are: Kenneth Ames, 21; Kenneth Kennedy, 19; John Combs, 19; Lawrence Roberts, 20; Harvey Gregory, 18; Arthur Beatty, 22, and Dale Crawford, 22. All are free on $200 bonds each.

Morrison Expected to Be Named by GOP

The Westmoreland County Republican committee is expected tonight to designate Herbert O. Morrison of Scottdale as the party's candidate for Congress in a Jan. 21 special election to fill a vacancy.

The committee will meet in the Penn Albert Hotel, Greensburg, at 8 o'clock to make the nomination.

Morrison, news broadcaster for a Pittsburgh radio station who has been defeated in two previous efforts to win a seat in Congress, probably will be nominated without opposition.

GOP state and county leaders had been making a desperate attempt to find the "right man" for an all-out campaign. They frankly do not think that man is Morrison.

Their latest prospect, County Commissioner Smith McKee Jr. of New Kensington, took his name out of consideration last night after spending all of yesterday considering whether he should make the race.

McKee told The Daily Independent just before noon today:

"I have given this matter the

Former Local Girl's Husband Develops Reactor

An American scientist recently announced the development of a pocket-sized power reactor while his wife visited with her parents in Monessen.

John E. Cummingham, assistant director of the Metallurgical Division at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, said the U. S. Army is now using the nuclear fuel at Fort Belvoir, Va.

Cummingham made the announcement in Paris, France, where he was attending a scientific conference.

At the time, his wife, Dolores, and their five children were visiting in Monessen with Mrs. Cummingham's parents, Mr. and Mrs Joseph Mori, 216 Rebecca St.

Mrs. Cummingham is a graduate of Monessen High School and California State Teachers College.

The new reactor is capable of heating a small military outpost for three years, Cummingham stated.

The Cumminghams live in Oak Ridge, Tenn.

you can't secure new industry if everyone pulls together.

McGlincy, a top executive of U. S. Steel, said his firm "still has faith in Donora."

"I am optimistic about the future," he said. "We are going through a period of readjustment. And perhaps this current shakedown is a good thing. It's letting us know that the honeymoon is over."

McGlincy said he favored diversified industry. He told of efforts, by him to attract an industry to Donora with an offer of free land. This particular firm eventually selected a site near the Pennsylvania Turnpike, indicating the importance of good highways. McGlincy said.

"We hope to diversify within our corporation," McGlincy said. "The amount of money we spend in Donora will depend in a large measure on Donora itself. We are in business to make a profit and there's no disgrace in that. We have every confidence that Donora will be equal to the task."

Delsandro told his listeners it was "time to face facts and talk turkey."

'Time to Start Acting'

He said Donora has been overcome with a spirit of pessimism and he suggested it was time that everyone pulled together in a cooperative effort. He asked the Chamber of Commerce to start by naming an executive director.

"It's time to get out of the talking stage and into the acting stage," said Delsandro.

Delsandro and Alfred Zeffiro, Donora businessman, served as co-chairmen for the affair. Al (Hank) Garde, councilman, acted as toastmaster.

Other speakers included Wallace Hirsh, president of the Merchants Division; U.F. Corsini, superintendent of the Donora Steel and Wire Works and Victor Giannamore, president of United Steelworkers Local 1758.

The Rev. Louis A. Farina of St. Philip's R.C. Church gave the invocation while the Rev. Alex Black, of Trinity Lutherans Church, offered the benediction.

stage as diagnosed so far," he said.

Hagen remained in continual contact by telephone with Deputy Vanguard Director J. Paul Walsh at the launching site.

"They're trying to find out what happened," he said. "He hasn't had time to stop. But naturally he's very disappointed."

'It Failed! It Failed!'

Nearby a woman, tense with the excitement of the morning watch, screamed:

"It failed! It failed!"

Boats scurried about Canaveral harbor to make sure no craft was in the area and then would stand by to pick up any pieces of the missile that fell into the ocean.

A red warning ball flew over the base.

A crane surrounding the missile —used to reach the top of the 72-foot spire, was wheeled away at 10:36 a.m. leaving the beautiful missile gleaming in the bright Florida sun.

Reporters, photographers and scores of curious spectators strained their eyes on the beach to witness the oncoming sight.

BRICKNER ENJOYS COLD WAVE — Gus Brickner, the cold water swimmer from Charleroi, was about the only district person happy to see the mercury dip below freezing the past few days. Yesterday morning, with the temperature about 20, Brickner jumped into the Monongahela River for his swim. He plans to work out daily in preparation for another attempt at the English Channel next year. Gus had to give up after crossing two-thirds of the Channel in record time this past August.

Warm Air and Rain Changes Area Weather

A mass of warm air pushed over Pennsylvania today, bringing with it rain.

Today's weather thus concluded an unusual weather pattern which also included snow and freezing temperatures in the past 24-hour period.

It began warming late yesterday. By midnight the temperature had risen to 40 degrees. At noon, it was 48 degrees.

The mercury readings were in sharp contrast to the past few days. Yesterday morning the temperature was reported at 18 degrees.

The warm, moist air moved into the district from the Gulf Area. It covered most of the east today and melted away the season's first heavy snowfall.

The temperature today was expected to reach the 50s. Tonight the mercury is expected to go no lower than the 40s.

Tomorrow, the forecast was for continued cloudy and mild weather.

governing November elections specifically say that no new registrations change of addresses, or party affiliations, can be accepted by the registration office after fifty days prior to the election.

The fifty day period expired on December 2, three days before the registration office could legally open its books to new registrations following the recent November 5 general election.

The report also said that the books must be closed for 30 days Monday's session, following the January 21 special election so no new registrations can be accepted until after February 20.

All discrepancies found in the November 5 general election will be corrected prior to the January 21 special election and all change of address cards received prior to the December 2 deadline will be honored, the office reported.

DeLotto added that the same street sheets will be used for this election, and that arrangements will be made for distribution to the selected candidates and the two political parties. All other provisions of the election concerning the registration office will be carried out in full accord with general election laws, the report concluded.

an atmosphere of harmony and cooperation.

Referring to Pittsburgh's growth and expansion eastward, Magee pointed out that Westmoreland County will be increasingly affected.

"Few industrial locations today are as favorably situated as Westmoreland from the standpoint of production and distribution," he declared. Its strategic position relative to raw materials, fuels and other elements of production, and its proximity to large, important market areas are notable advantages.

He said that last May ALCOA announced plans to build a new research center in the vicinity of Merwin, a few miles east of present laboratories. He said the company plans to have all its research departments located in Merwin.

"Our decision to remain here can be considered a sincere testimonial to our faith in the industrial climate of Westmoreland County," Magee concluded.

A capacity crowd attended the 15th annual affair presided over by Charles McKenna Lynch Jr., county branch chairman of the PEL. The invocation was delivered by the Rev. Dr. William G. Ryan, president of Seton Hill College, Greensburg.

Russell R. Jones, executive secretary, gave a resume of the chapter's activities in the county the past year and told of future plans. He said one of the future projects is to review the mid-year position of the 1957-58 budget of the Monessen School District.

John R. Abernethy, assistant vice president, Mellon Bank, and Dr. J. Karl Beery, vice president, First Federal Savings and Loan Association, both of Monessen, were reelected to the county committee.

Also present from Monessen were: Mayor Hugo J. Parente; Councilmen John Molnar and David Victoria; City Clerk Francis Crum; City Engineer Richard Belan; George Cieply, Sam D. Stern, Fred C. Stockus, Chamber of Commerce; Robert Lauterbach, James Howard and Gus Eannarino, Pittsburgh Steel Co., and Harvey W. Seymour and Robert Kramer, Monessen Page Division, American Chain & Cable Co., Inc. Thomas Malpass Jr., Western Pennsylvania National Bank, Belle Vernon, was also present.

Ike Plans to Attend NATO Summit Meeting

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower has decided to attend the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) summit meeting in Paris Dec. 16, it was learned today.

Only an unexpected setback in his rapid recovery from a mild stroke, or a firm veto by his doctors, could alter his decision to head the U.S. delegation to the crucial cold war meeting, administration officials said.

Reliable informants said plans are being made for the President to make the transatlantic trip. Formal announcement of his decision may be put off, however, until Wednesday or Thursday of next week.

Doctors Will Decide

The Chief Executive's doctors are expected to make their final checkup prior to the announcement some time after Eisenhower ends his current long weekend stay at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Announcement by the White House and State Department that the President would not attend the meeting, following his Nov. 25 cerebral attack, led to deep concern among some of the European leaders slated to attend the meeting of chiefs of the NATO nations. There was considerable feeling that lack of his leadership might weaken the hoped-for allied effort to strengthen western scientific, military and political cooperation in the face of Russia's space-age challenge.

Made Quick Recovery

The announcement "assuming" the Chief Executive would not go, made during the uncertain hours following disclosure of his mild stroke, was issued without consulting the President. But his quicker-than-expected recovery from his attack, plus his personal anxiety over the fate of the NATO meeting, led to his decision to go ahead with plans to make the trip.

The White House has, since its original announcement, reopened the door publicly to the possibility he will go. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty's latest word is that the decision now will be up to the Chief Executive's doctors. Vice President Richard M. Nixon is ticketed to go if the President does not.

All indications from abroad have been that the NATO meeting will suffer a setback if the President does not go.

Court Approves Compromise

Washington County Court has approved a compromise settlement in the amount of $998 in a suit against the Westmoreland Paving Co., Monessen.

The suit was filed by Peter and Pauline Raguso, Avella, in behalf of their 11-year-old son Peter Jr. Named as defenders were Robert Cook, Floyd Ganassi and Henry Rischitelli, who trade as Westmoreland Paving Co.

This was a suit to recover for injuries alleged to have been received by young Raguso when he was reportedly hit by flying gravel and stone from a truck of the defendant company. According to the suit, the boy sustained an eye injury.

The sum of $700 was apportioned to the parents, out of which shall be paid the doctor and hospital bill amounting to $154.03. The sum of $298 will be paid to the parents in their own right.

We Heard It— ABOUT the VALLEY

(By The Independent News Staff)

The Way It Goes!

Remember Joseph Waggoner, the former Monessen recreation director?

Now a salesman working out of Pittsburgh, Waggoner was in town the other day telling his listeners this story:

"For years my wife and I prayed for a family. When it appeared that we would have no children of our own, we adopted a baby boy last year.

"So what do you suppose happens two months ago?"

At this point, one of Waggoner's listeners interrupted to ask:" Did your wife give birth to a baby?"

"Not quite," replied Waggoner. "To be exact, she presented me with twin daughters."

New School Bids

Bids for the proposed new Rostraver Twp elementary school in the Sweeney Plan will probably be opened in Harrisburg on Jan. 14.

The new school will be financed through a lease-back agreement with the state. Public School Building Authority. It will probably be ready for use by the 1959-60 term.

Force of Habit

For many years, Marty Kessler has been a fixture as the operator of the bus transporting Monessen High sports teams.

This week, when the MHS basketball team left for its first road game of the season at Greensburg, the veteran Kessler was behind the wheel as usual.

Almost mechanically, Kessler pulled the big bus from Knox Ave., then turned right down Ninth St. just as he had done so many times in the past.

Suddenly Kessler applied the brakes!

A few feet from the Schoonmaker Ave. intersection, he had remembered that the street was completely ripped up for new concrete paving.

Start Out Early

Soap opera fans get started early these days, and they wield influence as well.

A Reed Ave. housewife reported the other day two young tots were playing in her back yard. When she walked by, one asked her what time it was.

When she replied, the boy said: "Golly neds! we had better get home, it's almost time for "Valliant Lady".

Credit Bureau Open

"There's a mistaken impression in Monessen that the Chamber of Commerce is no longer operating its credit bureau," reports Joseph Friedland, chairman of the Chamber's Business Affairs Committee.

"It was the collection bureau, not the credit bureau, which was discontinued recently," he points out. "Our credit bureau is regarded as one of the finest in the district."

Patients Pleased

Patients at the Aspinwall Veterans Hospital were pleased Tuesday night when several carloads of local veterans showed up — in the middle of a snowstorm — to distribute gifts for Christmas.

The veterans, members of Allison-Lescanac Post 1190, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and its Auxiliary, took along part of the many hundreds of toilet articles donated by Monessen school children.

In addition, more than 75 dozen cookies were distributed by the Auxiliary members.

Needless to say, the patients expressed their thanks.

Men of Bar

Plans are afoot to form a bar association made up of attorneys from Monessen, West Newton and other nearby Westmoreland County communities. Two meetings already have been held toward that end.

Incidentally, Monessen has eight native sons practicing law here and all are post-war attorneys. None has yet reached 40 years of age. Peter J. Demas rates the title of dean of the group. Besides Demas, there are Louis and James Manderino, Gilfert Mihalich, Daniel Myshin, Henry Martin, Bernard Shire and Frank P. Ezerski Jr.

Ten years ago there were just two attorneys practicing and living in Monessen—David H. Weiss, now a common pleas judge, and George Frich, who now resides in Florida.

Takes Patience!

Edwin Melenyzer, Monessen funeral director, has been going deer hunting for 20 years, but it wasn't until Monday that he got his first deer, a 7 point buck.

But that's not all. It was the first shot he had ever taken at a buck deer in all his years at hunting.

That's not bad, first buck with first shot, even if it took 20 years.

Compulsory Military Reserve Training Big Issue at Penn State

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UP) — The question of compulsory military reserve training has become an issue among student organizations at the Pennsylvania State University.

To date, student councils at three of the university's nine colleges have voted on the question of a compulsory ROTC program for first and second year male students.

Two have voted to back required ROTC. The third voted for abolition.

Those backing the program were the College of Agriculture and the College of Business Administration, which voted Thursday night. The College of Liberal Arts has voted against the program.

The issue became known two nights ago when the All-University Cabinet, representing students at the university's nine colleges, appointed a five-man committee to study the question and make a recommendation.

Actually, compulsory ROTC has been an issue in many of the nation's land grant institutions the past few years. These institutions, a Penn State spokesman said, are compelled to offer ROTC but are not required to compel students to take part in it. However, it has been the policy at Penn State, which has one of the largest ROTC programs in the country, to make it compulsory for first and second year students.

The program was made an "issue" at Penn State in the last "campaign" by student parties for the election of college and class officers.

The student parties usually draw up "platforms" and the abolition of compulsory ROTC was incorporated in the platform of the Campus Party.

This year about 4,700 students are enrolled in ROTC. About 3,600 are in the first and second year program and 790 are in the advanced program.

Any recommendation by the All-University Cabinet would have to be passed on by the All-University Senate, representing the faculties of the nine colleges, and ultimately by the university board of trustees.

Morrison

most careful consideration from all angles. But I have had to conclude that my duty lies in staying on the job to which the people elected me."

McKee pointed out that the commissioners are now in the midst of 1958 budget and tax discussions.

"My conscience just will not allow me to drop out of these discussions to conduct a campaign for another public office," he said.

McKee's term as commissioner has two more years to run.

The commissioner was warm in his praise of Morrison.

"Some people seem to feel Morrison doesn't have a chance," McKee said. "But I think he has a fine chance. He is a hard worker, he has the time to conduct a vigorous personal campaign, and he is entitled to the united support of our party leadership."

It is not certain, however, that Morrison will get that kind of support. He is generally well liked personally, but party leaders are afraid he is not a winner.

But the Scottdale men doesn't agree. He is said to feel that he could have beaten any Democrat except the late Augustine B. Kelley, who defeated Morrison twice by large majorities.

His opponent this time will be State Sen. John H. Dent of Jeannette. Like Kelley, Dent has long been a key figure in the powerful Westmoreland County courthouse organization.

Dent will be nominated by the Democratic state executive committee Monday in Harrisburg on the unanimous recommendation of Westmoreland party leaders.

Tonight's meeting of the Republicans in Greensburg probably will be sparsely attended by committee members. Monessen has 22 members of the committee presently eligible to vote. At full strength, the local group would number 32.

VFW Chaplain Named Aide to State Leader

Paul Komar, chaplain of the Allison-Lescanac Post 1190, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has been named an aide-de-camp to the State Commander William J. Tepsic.

This was announced last night at a meeting of the Post held in its Schoonmaker Ave. home.

A report on a trip to Aspinwall Veterans Hospital Tuesday night was made by Komar and Socrates Loulis, junior vice commander.

Members of the Post and Auxiliary made the trip to entertain patients there and at the same time to distribute Christmas gifts.

Announcement was made that similar trips will be made soon to the two other district veterans hospitals, Oakland and Leech Farm. Dates for these trips will be announced later.

Presiding was John Hurrianko, chairman and report were given by Richard Pustelak, quartermaster and R. Mitchell Steen Jr., adjutant.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, Dec. 19.

DONORA SPEAKER — Mrs. Margaret Hankins, missionary from Jamaica, will speak in the Pilgrim Holiness Church, Donora, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Hankins has made several trips to Mexico, West Indian islands and British Guiana. The Rev. E. E. Finley is church pastor.

Here's One Way To Bag A Deer

An eight-point deer was stolen from in front of a tavern in Washington, Pa., yesterday.

Andy Ranegar, owner of the tavern, told police that a black automobile bearing Ohio license plates drove up in front of his place. Two men got out of the car and took one of three deer hanging outside of the building.

Ranegar managed to get the license number of the car. He said the deer belonged to nearby hunters.

Watreas' Shoes Are Offered as Evidence

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (UP)—Audrey Clark, who married Joseph Watreas, 29, without knowing he already had a wife, was expected to take the stand today at the Masontown coal miner's trial for murder.

Watreas, charged with strangling Alvie Partridge, 81, Masontown grocer, last July 29, left his wife and three children the day of the slaying and eloped with Miss Clark. He was arrested in August at Miami, Fla.

Partridge was slain by someone who wore tennis shoes. Footprints left in his grocery established that a size seven Ked tennis shoe was worn by the assailant.

The state Thursday produced evidence that Watreas purchased a size 7 pair of Keds from the Union Supply Co. Continental store last May. His signature was on the sales slip.

In addition, the state said Watreas had a pair of size 7 Keds in his possession when arrested by the FBI in Miami.

The eight-foot length of wire used to strangle Patridge was introduced Thursday as evidence. The jury was not permitted to handle the wire, which had dynamite caps attached, because of the danger of an explosion.

William Zimmerman, in charge of a DuPont explosives depot at Leisenring, Pa., testified that blasting caps with eight - foot lengths of wire had been sold to the Karen Mine, where Watreas was employed. He said from January to May the mine purchased 50,000 of the caps.

The state produced evidence to show Watreas stole DuPont blasting caps and wire from the mine and hid five of them in the eaves of his garage.

State Trooper Anthony Cywinski, who supervised investigation of the murder, testified he compared the wires taken from Watreas' garage with those found on the victim.

"They are the same type," Cywinski said.

Bridge Club in Pldy Last Night

Dr. J. H. Carazola of Canonburg was the winner of the Gene and Boots trophy last night when the Magic City Bridge Club met in the Charleroi Elks Club. He held 17 points to receive the award.

There were seven and a half tables in play. North-south winners were Mrs. Walter L. Lofink and Mrs. E. J. Feeney of Pittsburgh, first; Mrs. Dan Dolfie and Mrs. Alice Fiscus of Charleroi, second.

East-west winners were E. J. Feeney of Pittsburgh and James P. Ferguson of Belle Vernon, first; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roth of Charleroi, second.

Advertised Fizzle

THE SNAFU which marked the attempted launching by the Navy of a Vanguard satellite at Cape Canaveral, Fla., Wednesday strikes us as an inexcusable exhibition of ineptness.

This criticism does not apply to the technical aspects of the experiment, but to the folly of making an advance public announcement.

In something so novel as the launching of the first American satellite, no one could blame the scientists and technicians involved if they had some trouble with their last-minute preparations. Nor could we have found much fault if the first launching proved to be a fizzle.

But with the eyes of the whole world on the American developments in this field, it seemed to us unnecessarily brash and foolhardy to announce to the press that the satellite would be launched at such-and-such a time, even naming the precise minute. There was nothing to be gained from such an advance announcement except to attract world attention to a failure which was possible and maybe even probable.

The Russians have been having a propaganda field day with their Sputniks, using them as flying proof of their superiority in the missile and space fields. Some well informed scientists in this and other countries are pretty certain that the Russians have been overdoing this, but nobody is denying its effectiveness on public opinion in many parts of the world.

Wednesday's snafu at Cape Canaveral, however, played into Moscow's hands, making it all the more easy to tell the world that Russia is superior.

It is one thing not to have mastered the trick of launching a satellite. But why do we have to go to such lengths to advertise it?

Stevenson's Place

ADLAI Stevenson is correct, we feel, in not wishing to be used as window-dressing at the NATO conference in Paris.

That is about all he could be at this meeting. We do not have a coalition government, nor is one necessary. There is no reason to mistrust the operation of our two-party system even in times of international tension.

Mr. Stevenson is being consulted about about American proposals to be submitted to NATO. But at this point there is no way of judging whether he is making a useful contribution, whether he will be able to support these proposals after they are in final form or whether, even if he did support them, he would be speaking for the Democratic party, particularly for its members in Congress.

In this framework of circumstances, we think Mr. Stevenson's instinct is to carry out his present assignment, whatever it is, and promptly revert to his position as a private citizen and leader of the Democratic party without portfolio. He ought to follow this instinct.

A good foreign policy should not need artificial political window-dressing. It should be able to command the support, at least in its essentials, of all Americans of mature judgment and patriotic good will.

If we do not now have a policy, we had better get one soon.

Meany's Stand

PRESIDENT George Meany of the AFL-CIO has drawn the issue pretty squarely for the delegates to the convention in Atlantic City. He says that unless the Teamsters Union purges itself of its corrupt officers, it will be voted out of the AFL-CIO.

Nobody who has followed the congressional investigations of the Teamsters Union will need a translation of Mr. Meany's remarks. He is saying that no union headed by James Hoffa or Dave Beck or anyone like them is going to be a unit of the AFL-CIO while he (Meany) is president.

At this rather critical juncture in the development of the labor movement in this country, it is most gratifying that a man of Mr. Meany's fortitude is leading the major federation of unions.

It's true that the modern girl is more progressive than her mother. The Youth Research Institute, studying the habits of today's teenagers, reports that some boys now turn their allowances over to their "steady" girl friends, and the girls promptly put the boys on a budget.

Russia has announced launching of an atomic-powered ice-breaker. This is something the American kitchen has needed for a long time.

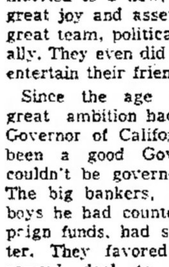
Merry-Go-Round—

Gov. Knight Spurned by 'Money Men'

By DREW PEARSON

LOS ANGELES — J. Goodwin Knight, Governor of California, paced the floor of the ancient, gabled executive mansion in Sacramento. His fists were clenched. His expression was not happy.



Mr. Pearson

"I cleaned up the Samish liquor license scandals," he told friends who sat watching his tense pacing. "I cleaned up the Gus Johnson banking mess. There has not been one taint of scandal or dishonesty connected with my administration. Yet they won't give me a second term.

"I kept peace between labor and management," he continued. "But they won't give me a second term.

"True, I haven't got water for 'em. But only God can give us water, and short of God I did my best. I'm ready to call a special session of the Legislature tomorrow to consider water. There isn't a thing I haven't done for the state and people of California. But they won't give me a second term."

The Governor of California is a lonely man these days. He is also a sad and shamed man. What he said is true. He has conducted an honest administration. He has been a good governor.

And the manner in which they deprived him of a second term goes to the roots of the worst influence in American politics today— money. It's the fact that a few wealthy men can pick who runs for governor or the Senate in many states of the union. Goody Knight a few months ago was bubbling over with enthusiasm. His political future was bright. He was married to a new, lovely wife, a great joy and asset. They were a great team, politically and personally. They even did parlor tricks to entertain their friends.

Since the age of 19 Goody's great ambition had been to be Governor of California. He had been a good Governor. Yet he couldn't be governor any more. The big bankers, the big-money boys he had counted on for campaign funds, had shut off his water. They favored the Nixon-arranged deal to make Senator Knowland the next Governor of California.

Johnson Beat Bosses

Forty years before, another Governor of California had paced the floor of the same ancient, gabled executive mansion in Sacramento. He was Hiram Johnson, and he too had been challenged by the big-money boys of California.

They then operated under the name of "the Southern Pacific machine" and they too decreed who should sit in the governor's mansion in Sacramento. They opposed Hiram Johnson but, unlike Goody Knight, Hiram refused to bow. He accepted the challenge and with the help of William Randolph Hearst routed the big-money bosses.

That victory helped to bring about the direct primary, by which political candidates were nominated by direct vote of the people, not by a few men sitting in banks or railroad offices or smoke filled rooms.

Senate Unseated Vare

Thirty years before, in 1927, another prominent Republican fought the party bosses, this time in the Senate, and this time in Pennsylvania, not California. He was George Wharton Pepper, noted Philadelphia lawyer, who battled against William Vare, GOP boss of Philadelphia, for a seat in the U.S. Senate.

By this time the direct primary was in operation. Vare, sitting in a smoke-filled room, could not pick himself for the Senate. But he could spend the money to influence or buy his seat in the Senate. He spent plenty. Some people estimated it at around $200,000. Vare won.

But public opinion revolted. It recognized this as a flagrant violation of the direct primary. The party boss who couldn't pick himself for the Senate had bought himself into the Senate.

And the Senate, refusing to have its seats bought and bartered, voted 58 to 22 to bar Vare from taking his seat.

That was an era when big money tried but could not defeat the direct primary. In the same era Frank Smith of Illinois, who spent $100,000 on his primary, and Truman H. Newberry of Michigan, both Republicans, were either barred or kicked out of the Senate for excessive expenditures.

Gov. Goody Knight, arriving in Washington to formally announce his bow to the big-money bosses, registered at the same hotel on the same night with George Wharton Pepper, gnarled, frail, and 90. He came to Washington to receive a tribute from old friends. Bent in body but not in spirit, he had been defeated by the bosses, but never bowed to them.

Goody Knight called at the White House that day, conferred with Nixon and bowed. He bowed out of the race for Governor of California.

Politics Must End at the Russians' 'Edge'

From Washington—

McElroy Begins to Do It

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

A radical re-organization of the defense set-up is in the making.

It is headed toward removing at least the worst of what Dr. Vannevar Bush, who headed military research and development during the war, described to the Senate investigators last week as the "hampering," "damaging," "disgraceful" rivalry between the armed forces.

Mr. Drummond

It will center authority more effectively in the hands of Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy and may well bring about a re-casting of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Steps to achieve this re-organization are to be taken this month.

Quiet words forecasting this action have been in the news for several weeks.

The rigorous consequences which this action will bring are only just coming into the open.

What Will Happen

They are causing no little agony among the top military because it is impossible to tell in advance how far they will go.

They may go very far, indeed.

Here is what is going to happen:

All research and development of all "new and novel weapons" (which will comprise about everything important from here on out) will be taken out of the control of the services and placed under a single manager responsible to the Secretary of Defense and administered without regard to the separate services.

The immediate application of this concept will come in the development of the much-discussed anti-missile missile — already a bone of jealous controversy between the Army and the Air Force. The projected satellite, satellite applications and all future outer space devices will be similarly organized apart from and above the competing services.

All this may sound fairly innocent on the surface.

It isn't going to seem very important to much of the top brass in the Pentagon.

Single Command

If I see at all clearly down the road where Mr. McElroy is headed, he is headed toward the creation of a single command (called single manager) for the development of all new and novel weapons.

This command will not be under any of the services.

It will cut across all the services.

It will be put under the authority of the Secretary of Defense, not under the authority of either the Army, Navy or Air Force.

It can mean nothing less than removing (except for missiles now in an advanced stage) the development of all principal weapons from the separate services.

And why is this so important? Wherein does it bear upon what Dr. Bush described as the "hampering" and "damaging" rivalry between the services?

There are powerful reasons why it begins to go directly to the heart of the wasteful, jealous, duplicating competition between the services:

It does so because now each of the three services lunges at the scientist's eye whenever he reveals a glint of an idea for a new weapon and seeks to pre-empt the possession of that "weapon" long before it has become a sketch in the mind of its inventor.

What largely determines the budget, size, power and prestige of the separate services is the assignment of "roles and missions." It is the possession of a major new weapon which significantly enlarges the role and mission of each service.

This is primarily the reason why each of the services rushes pell-mell into competition with each other for development of the same kind of weapon; why each hoards its scientists and often hoards its scientific information.

Secretary McElroy's announcement that he will soon apply the "single manager" concept to "new and novel weapons" is a quiet fuse with a terrific potential blast.

It means that the separate services will not be allowed to preempt new weapons in their embryonic stages and to compete wildly with each other for their development.

It means that the assignment of weapons can be more deliberate and orderly and can rest more on a rational basis rather than depending upon which service happens to get the right scientists working for it first.

This extension of the "single manager" system to "new and novel weapons" is the most significant decision of Secretary McElroy's tenure thus far.

Out of the Files

Thirty Years Ago—

Tuesday, Dec. 6, 1927

A bitter cold wave and blizzard is reported to be headed this way.

At a recital given Saturday evening at Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Miss Miriam Johnston of Monessen gave a reading, "The Taming of the Shrew."

Twenty Years Ago

Monday, Dec. 6, 1937

Members of the Junior Woman's club and the Woman's Club will be entertained tomorrow evening by Mrs. Albert Duvall at her home on McKee Ave. Mrs. Robert Steele of California will be the speaker. The newly organized choral club of the Junior Club under the direction of Mary Jane Helzlsouer will make its initial appearance at the meeting.

The annual concert of the combined glee clubs of the Monessen High School will be given on the evening of Dec. 1 at the High School. The first part will be given over to orchestral selections and choral numbers. The second part will present the students in a one-act playette "Why the Chimes Rang."

Ten Years Ago—

Saturday, Dec. 6, 1947

Between 15,000 and 20,000 persons lined Donner and Schoonmaker Avenues yesterday afternoon to see Monessen's second Christmas parade. The City had not held a parade since 1941. Hundreds of letters written by children, addressed to Santa Claus were placed in a large box in the Chamber of Commerce office at the City Building.

Last night by a disputed decision, Joe Louis retained his world's heavyweight boxing championship against the challenge of Jersey Joe Walcott, before 18,194 fans. The New York State Athletic Commission will hold a hearing Monday at which a reversal of the verdict is possible.

Leo Durocher today was rehired as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers by President Branch Rickey.

The Feast of Lights, commonly known as Chanukah will be observed in Jewish homes for eight days beginning tomorrow at sunset.

Poland, Yugoslavia to Boycott Red Magazine

By CHARLES M. McCANN

Both Yugoslavia and Poland apparently have decided to boycott a proposed new international Communist publication.

Dispatches from Eastern Europe say that plans to start the publication were approved at the recent conference in Moscow of Red leaders from all over the world.

Mr. McCann

It would be sponsored by Communist Parties in free countries as well as in those under Communist rule.

Soviet Russia failed in an attempt to win support for a bid to form a new international Communist organization, which it would have sought to dominate.

Both President Tito of Yugoslavia and Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka of Poland were among those who refused to agree to the setting up of any such organization.

Now both Tito and Gomulka seem to have refused to take any part in the new propaganda publication.

Won't Risk U. S. Relations

The reason is that the material used in the new publication naturally would be bitterly anti-western. Neither Tito nor Gomulka wants to lend his name to anything of that sort and risk antagonizing the United States.

Gomulka in recent weeks has patched up some of his differences with Russian Communist leaders. He is in a difficult situation, under attack in his own country by his fellow Communists who oppose his attempt to keep Poland free from Kremlin domination and by Communists and others who want a complete break with Russia.

For that reason, Gomulka signed the anti-western manifesto which was issued after the Moscow meeting of Red leaders.

Tito, after suffering a convenient attack of lumbago which caused him to cancel his plan to attend the Moscow meeting, ordered his own delegates to refuse to sign the manifesto.

Relations Apparently Bad

There is increasing evidence that relations between Tito and the Russian Communists are pretty bad.

In this connection, a report published in London says that the real reason Tito refused to go to Moscow was that Nikita S. Khrushchev, the Soviet Communist leader, tried to censor a speech he intended to make.

According to this report, Tito sent the draft of his speech to Moscow in advance as a matter of courtesy. It was returned, the report says, with drastic deletions and revisions made by Khrushchev.

The London dispatch reported also that Tito told his Moscow delegates to try to find out just how strong Khrushchev is in his present leadership.

The delegates went home, the report said, to tell Tito that Khrushchev's position is unstable because powerful elements in the Soviet Communist party still want to revert to Stalin-type rule.

The Lighter Side—

Men's Duds May Turn Eerie in Space Age

By DOC QUIGG

NEW YORK (UP)—Gentlemen, let us now begin thinking what manner of men we will appear to be when the wave of the future hits the men's clothing industry. Will men's duds turn eerie?

Will there be push-button clothing, with built-in heating, air-conditioning, and—we might as well think big—shower baths?

Will we let the Russians get a big jump on us in such fields as, say, non-itch fabrics, self-sealing pockets, shine - resisting pants seats, and other such sure-to-come improvements?

Our scouts have fetched in reliable reports that a radical fringe of the clothing industry already is speculating that the time will come when you will step out of the shower in the morning and your wife will spray that day's clothing onto you with aniaerosol bomb containing chemical clothing compounds.

A Duds Disintegrator

The scouts did not say how you get the stuff off at night, but it is to be presumed that ways will be found. Perhaps every home will be equipped with a duds disintegrator closet into which you step and—poof!—you're undressed.

In search of an authoritative voice in the male raiment field, we corralled Robert Asher, a big men's pants man from Massachusetts, vice president of the Asher Company of Fitchburg. He designs and makes men's and boys' slacks, and he's setting up a research division to delve into fabrics and materials for the future.

He said he could envision disposable paper clothing before long; he could see the possibility of chemically treated linings that would react automatically to the weather as if thermostatically controlled. But when asked about the talk of spray-gun garb, he used a forceful word: "Malarkey."

However, he said he suspected that within a couple of years there might be sprays on the market—something like a silicon-finish kit—with which your wife could spray your conventional fabric clothing to waterproof it in the face of a sudden rainstorm.

"That spray-on clothing thing—hosing a guy down in the morning and sending him out into the world—is interesting to imagine," he said. "But I suspect that if there's any spraying it will be onto the conventional type of clothing which—let's face it—helps to cover up fat rolls, knock knees, and kindred defects.

Paper Underwear—Maybe

"However, I think it's just a matter of time before we'll see paper underwear, paper handkerchiefs, and, over a longer period, paper shirts, slacks, and more complicated garments. I envision them for heavy work or play, and it's conceivable that, if it's made with low cost, you can just take the stuff and throw it away after wearing.

"I'll venture that five years from now we'll look back on 1957 and be amazed at the pace. You'll see emerging almost paperlight fabrics with crease resistance. The ultimate goal is a chemical lining or a treated fabric that will react as a thermostat does. If the body needs heat, it will let your body heat be retained; if the body is giving off heat, this thing will let it be released—thus beating the weather."

Consider, then, tomorrow's man — wearing a thermostat. Even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

At the White House—

Mamie Rules at Farm

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP) — Backstairs at the White House:

There seemed to be a definite, deliberate effort to hold down the size of President Eisenhower's staff at Gettysburg last weekend. Only Maj. Gen. Howard McC. Snyder and Press Secretary James C. Hagerty were on hand.

This small staff was believed to represent Mrs. Eisenhower's wishes that her husband should have as much complete quiet and an absence of official business as possible following his cerebral attack earlier in the week.

On most trips to Gettysburg when the President is feeling well, he is accompanied by no working staff — only his doctor, the Secret Service and a unit from the Army Signal Corps.

When Eisenhower went to Gettysburg in 1955 after his heart attack, however, he was accompanied by a large staff of secretaries and office assistants. He even set up an office in the small post office building in downtown Gettysburg.

But those days seem to be over. This past weekend probably will be the pattern for future farm visits whether the President is well or not. The situation seems to be, according to some of the Eisenhower friends in Gettysburg, that if Mrs. Eisenhower has anything to do with it, never again will the farm—and Gettysburg, for that matter—become a White House work center if it is at all possible to avoid it.

If the President should try a round of golf at the Gettysburg Country Club this weekend, he may find the course a bit muddy. It certainly was in damp and slippery condition a few days ago, particularly on the holes near the small club lake.

Also, it is rather cold and raw on the Gettysburg course this time of year and long range forecasts earlier in the week hinted at the possibility of snow or cold rain this weekend.

If the President encounters much bad weather at Gettysburg, the farm will lose much of its appeal to him. He dislikes being confined to his home by weather or for any other reason.

Christmas Party Planned by Guild

Final plans were completed for the annual Christmas party when members of the Women's Guild of Trinity Episcopal Church met last night in the parish house on Reed Ave.

Mrs. Frank Morris conducted the devotional period, and the business session was conducted by Mrs. Earl Wahl, vice president.

The holiday party will be in the form of a dinner next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at Crawford's in Rostraver Township. Mrs. Morris is in charge of reservations, and none can be made after this evening.

The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Jack Skekel, Mrs. Nello DiBiaso and Mrs. Betty Greer.

There were several reports given including the progress of the sale of Christmas cards, the sale of Christmas candles and the sale of pecans. Dime envelopes, an annual project, were collected. Those having the envelopes may still turn them in at the party.

New Activities

Tentative plans were discussed for activities in 1958. It was decided to renew the pledge of $50 monthly toward the support of the church. The women also voted to continue with the project of earning funds to finance the installation of new sinks in the church kitchen and also to have some other work done there. The purchase of rubber matting for the kitchen floor was postponed until January.

Plans were discussed for having a memorial service for the late Mrs. Sally Ford, who was an active member of the church. Mrs. Ford went to England in August and news of her death on Nov. 12 was recently received here. The guild will sponsor a memorial service and place flowers on the church altar in her memory. Tentative plans were made to have this observance on a Sunday in January in conjunction with a Holy Communion service and installation of new officers. Mrs. Robert Johnston was appointed to discuss with the Rev. David Dillon Jr., church pastor, plans for this service.

Social Hour

Mrs. Jack Skekel will assume the presidency of the organization in January, and plans will be announced for the January meeting.

A social hour followed with Mrs. Skekel as hostess. Luncheon was served and appointments were in holiday motif. The guest prize was won by Mrs. Elizabeth Morton.

Methodist Woman's Society Marks Christmas Season

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church marked the advent of the Christmas season at the December meeting held on Tuesday evening in the adult Sunday School room.

The room was decorated in a Christmas theme and the main interest was the worship center comprised of a lighted church with a modern Christmas scene surrounding.

"You Are My Witnesses" was the subject for the evening. Mrs. L. E. Farquhar opened the program by playing quiet music, and then the women sang Christmas carols.

Mrs. Anthony Strauss was the devotional leader, and Mrs. William Parkinson was the program leader. She discussed "Home and Foreign Missions" stressing the aid given by women's groups.

Business Meet

Mrs. Russell Smith, president, conducted the business session. A contribution was voted to the Community Fund and to the church for Christmas.

The women served the Boy Scout banquet on Dec. 4. The society is selling Christmas candy as a fund raising project. Each circle head is a member of the committee in charge.

Small toys and school supplies will be collected for the next two Sundays for the McCrum Home in Uniontown.

During the offertory the church in the worship center played the recording of "Silent Night."

Luncheon was served in the gymnasium. Christmas candles and poinsettias decorated the tables. Invocation was by Mrs. Richard Hiernaux.

Hostesses were Mrs. Charles Throop, Mrs. C. W. Spahr, Mrs. Ben Seiple, Mrs. Corneilius Stevenson, Mrs. Ralph Palmer Jr., Mrs. Donald Skekel, Mrs. William Houy and Mrs. Melvin Johnston.

Fidelity Class Holds Annual Dinner Party

A turkey dinner was served as the highlight of the annual Christmas party held on Wednesday evening by the Fidelity Bible Class in St. Paul Lutheran Church.

Covers were laid for 22 members and four guests at tables arranged in a holiday motif. Christmas packages were arranged beneath a decorated Christmas tree. The Rev. Paul Trout asked the invocation. The dinner was prepared and served by members of the class.

Gifts were exchanged among the "Christmas pals."

Moving pictures were taken by Edith Giovanneilla and flash pictures were taken by Marguerite Allison. Mrs. Helen Rapp was dinner chairman.

The December business meeting was conducted. Donations were voted to the Girl Scouts and Brownies that meet at St. Paul Church. Contributions were also voted to the Passavant Hospital, Lutheran Service Society and Mentally Retarded Children's Fund.

The hostess calendar for 1958 was prepared and the next meeting set for Jan. 8 with Martha Burkhart and Minnie Caldwell entertaining.

The Canastettes Hold Meeting In Monongahela

The Canastettes met last night at the home of Mrs. Edwina Valdiserri of Monongahela. Mrs. Youla Popelich, a former member, was welcomed back into the club. She moved from Monessen two years ago and recently returned.

Moving pictures were shown of the club's recent Halloween party.

Two tables of canasta were played and prize winners were Sally Richter, Mrs. Marie Valdiserri, Youla Popelich and Mrs. Edwina Valdiserri.

Luncheon was served, and the next meeting will be in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Marie Valdiserri in the form of a Christmas party.

Polly Chuberka

Polly Chuberka Is Recognized In Who's Who

One of the highest honors any college student can obtain, recognition in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" has been bestowed on a Monessen student at Waynesburg College, Waynesburg. She is Polly Chuberka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chuberka of Harrison Ave., a senior student.

Each year colleges from all over the country select the outstanding students from the campus for recognition in the publication. The basis of their selection is excellence and sincerity in scholarship, leadership, participation in scholastic and extra - curricular events, citizenship, service to the school, and promise of future usefulness to industry and society.

Miss Chuberka is an elementary eduation major and plans to teach after graduation. She is an accomplished violinist, and a member of the Der Deutscher Verein, the German Club at the college, treasurer of Music Appreciation Club, a member of the college chorus, a former member of Y.W.C.A., and past vice-president of dormitory council.

She graduated from Monessen High School in 1955 as sixth highest in her class.

Regina Lodge Holiday Party Set for Monday

Highlighting the pre-holiday season for members of the Regina Lodge of the Sons of Italy will be the Christmas party set for Monday evening in the Sons of Italy Hall on Sixth St.

The entertainment committee met last night at the home of Mrs. Catherine Furio on Patton Ave. Mrs. Carrie Palm, chairman, was in charge. A dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m., and there will be an exchange of one dollar gifts among the members.

Reservations are being accepted by members of the telephone committee.

The Bidders Honor Member At Housewarming

When the Bidders met on Wednesday evening at the new home of Mrs. Pete Cina of 11 Jackson Dr. they surprised her with two housewarming gifts, a planter and a kitchen prayer.

Later cards were played and prizes were presented to high score holders, Clair Bernard, Betty Gedeon and Stella Alessio. Special awards were made to Jean Bernard and Stella Alessio.

Luncheon was served, and plans were made for the Christmas party in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Sophia Kelly.

St. Mary's Ladies Guild Holds Meeting and Party

St. Mary's Ladies Guild met Tuesday evening in the church hall following the recitation of the rosary led by the Rev. Andrew Parvensky. A business meeting and Christmas party were featured.

Routine reports by Ann Mahalko and Gloria Mahalko opened the business session. Ann Mahalko also reported on the successful pirohi sale.

Plans were made to serve the Holy Communion breakfast for Monessen Council Knights of Columbus on Dec. 29.

A card party is being planned for Jan. 19 with Helen Sivak as chairman and Mary Selestak as co-chairman. On the committee will be Sue Sowko, Elizabeth Pehonsky, Irene Skoczlas, Mrs. W. Selestak, Margaret Pankovich, Helen Panzo, Helen Patrick, Helen Nemosek, Gloria Mahalko, Sue Mica, Mary Mihalic, Margaret Komar, Ann Spiegelberg, Mary Konik, Ann Kovalski, Marie Kosh, Mary Kurtak and Mary Kicinko.

Birthdays Observed

Birthday handkerchiefs were presented to Mary Konik, Ann Chesmar, Mrs. Evancho, Helen Gido, Josephine Yatchisin, Irene Skoczlas, Mary Danilchak and Helen Patrick.

Appointed to the January luncheon committee were Mary Dankanich, Mrs. Evancho, Alice Fordanish, Mary Fayer, Catherine Ferencz, Mrs. A. Ferencz, Ann Furtall and Pauline Golomb.

The women will attend confession in a body on Dec. 21.

Father Parvensky spoke concerning the building program.

Donations were made to the church, the Christmas treat for the children, to the altar boys and for church flowers.

Holiday Program

A program marking the holiday season followed the business meeting. A sketch, "This Is Your Life" was enacted by Bertha Patrick, Agnes Popovich, Mary Gnora, Irene Skoczlas, Helen Panzo and Pauline Capozza. Helen Tweardy was the narrator. Father Parvensky led in carol singing. Father Basile, a Benedictine, was a guest.

Gifts were exchanged and luncheon was served by Helen Biksey, chairman, Pauline Capozza, Mary Churan, Ann Dolinsky, Mary Dzatko, Mary Gnora, Mary Desko, Ann Dzatko and Mary Dolan.

Prizes were won by Mary Mihalich, Sue Sowko and Ann Chesmar.

Catholic BPW Plans Christmas Party Dec. 26

The annual Christmas party for the Catholic Business and Professional Women's Club Our Lady of Fatima chapter of Monessen has been planned for Thursday evening, Dec. 26. It will be a dinner held at the Park Casino.

The theme of the meeting will be Holly-Charity and Kindness, and the topic is "If I should have all faith, so that I could remove mountains and have not charity I am nothing."

Comprising the committee on arrangements will be Margaret Thompson, Mary McKosky, Ann Arcuri, Virginia Dudas and Joan Galaski.

At a recent meeting held at the Park Casino James Bonafed of the LaRose Beauty Salon presented the program. It was arranged in keeping with the yearly theme of "Viewpoints" and the program theme was "A Viewpoint on Your Appearance."

Five models were used in demonstrating the new look in hair styles that was discussed by Mr. Bonafed. Fashion trends emphasized were the "siren lift" and "chemise look."

Mr. Bonafed styled Karen Vandermer's hair in "Belle ami." Mrs. Mary Toci wore the "chemise look" done by Mr. Bonafed.

Jay Lewis fashioned Eleanor Kurylo in a "scamp" style. Peggy Schmidt modeled for Dolores Romaski's "Lorelei" hair style, and Janice Wick wore the "La sorciere" as styled by Diana Sudor.

Sports Future Bleak at Donora

According to the latest enrollment figures, the athletic future at Donora High School looks rather bleak. For instance, the ninth grade enrollment at Donora this year is only 90 students compared to a high of 200 last year . . . The ninth grade enrollment at Donora prior to the 200 figure had been averaging 150 . . . Main reason for the drop in students is attributed to the new Catholic High School being constructed in Carroll Township . . . Students who will be sophomores there next year are attending various parochial grade schools throughout the district where ninth grade or freshmen classes are being conducted this year . . . With St. Charles and St. Dominic grade schools there supplying a great many of the Donora students in the past there is a strong possibility all of these will be lost reducing Donora's current 657 enrollment to below the 500 mark or to Class B stature, athletically.

Monessen High School's basketball team took only 16 shots in the first half against Greensburg Tuesday night but more than doubled that total the second half with 33 attempts . . . The 49 tries coupled with the 15 goals which found the hoop gave the 'Hounds only a 31 per cent shooting average . . . Odd part about the field goal production of the Janoksikmen against Greensburg is the fact that the "hard ones" connected for two points but the "peepers" wouldn't fall through the nets . . . Greensburg has a well-balanced team, some height, some excellent ball-handlers and a crew of "good shots."

Duquesne University joining the newly-formed Western Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Athletic Conference may force the Dukes to revise their big-time out-look . . . Dudley Moore's lads and St. Francis of Loretto are the only major cage powers in the conference . . . Other members include Carnegie Tech, Grove City, Westminster and Waynesburg . . . Except for an occasionally strong Westminster team none of the other schools could expect to compete with the Dukes and the Frankies in basketball under present policies. . . . Another conference meeting on Dec. 17 at New Wilmington will find the college presidents and trustees acting on the recommendations of the athletic directors as to scheduling, etc.

WPIAL Point Totals Seen Higher

WPIAL President William (Bill) Dolde, told the Mon Valley Football Officials' banquet crowd Monday night that due to the current trend toward grid confeences he can see the requirement for WPIAL teams to jump near the 140 or 150 mark for title contention . . . He claims that playing within conferences will jump the total much higher than the current 132 by which Clairton qualified for the title tilt this year (but lost to Wilkinsburg in the championship game) . . . Dick White, former Donora gridder, has been awarded a trophy at Detroit U. designating him as "lineman of the year" for his excellent play in Detroit Titan games this year at left tackle.

Today's Sports Parade—

Trader Lane Gets Back Player He Once 'Stole'

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK (UP) — Trader Frank Lane who "stole" Minnie Minoso from the Cleveland Indians seven years ago, has now returned the Cuban hustler to the Tribe in a deal that indicates a new Cleveland pattern.

If there can be an over-emphasis on pitching the Indians had it for several seasons with their "big four," but in Lane's first trade since he shifted on Nov. 12 from general manager of the St Louis Cardinals to a similar post with Cleveland, he hinted loudly his desire for a better balance between pitching and fast, aggressive play.

In his first deal, Lane sent Early Wynn, Cleveland's veteran right-hander, to the Chicago White Sox along with outfielder Al Smith And the Indians got Minoso and utility infielder Fred Hatfield.

Fits Bragan's Demands

Wynn is approaching 38. Minoso —a versatile performer who can play well at almost any post in the outfield or infield—is 35. And Minnie is the type of player most wanted by both Lane and the Indians' new field manager, Bobby Bragan — fast and aggressive.

They hope Minoso will be the spark for a live, hustling club that can attract fans to Cleveland's huge Municipal Stadium — where 2,600,000 watched games in 1948—but only 720,000 last season. Of course, winning games also will help attract the customers.

That's the Lane technique. He makes deals that boost his clubs at the turnstiles as well as in the standings. Frank gained the reputation of an astute trader while serving as general manager of the White Sox, from near the end of 1948 to the close of 1955. And he boosted the Chisox from a second-division outfit to a contender.

In St. Louis, he moved the Cardinals in two years from seventh place to second last season.

Lane became Cleveland's general manager on Nov. 12, to succeed Hank Greenberg. Greenberg was at that post in early 1951 when Lane (of the White Sox) got Minoso from the Indians in a three-club deal that sent pitcher Lou Brissie and outfielder Paul Lehner to the Indians Neither Brissie nor Lehner set any marshes on fire

But Minoso — stocky, muscular and lightning fast—became a star ufield and did very well at bat—although he is not a long-ball hitter. He played third base, short stop and the outfield. His aggressiveness at the plate—his crowding and attempts to steal a portion of the plate from the hurler — got him knocked down many times, but it also made him difficult to pitch to.

Minnie had a lifetime major league batting average of .307 at the start of the 1957 season, during which he hit .309, although he hit only 12 home runs in '57, he drove in 103 runs.

Cleveland certainly could have made good use of Minoso during the seven seasons he played at Chicago. Minnie's prowess in a Chisox uniform gradually impressed baseball men with the fact Greenberg doubtless made the worst deal of his career when he let Minoso go in '51, and Lane doubtless made a genuine David Harum triumph.

Johnstown Cagers Here Tonight

Monessen '58 Grid Card Set

Getting an early start on other valley schools, Monessen High Faculty Manager of Athletics Everett Pancook has announced the Monessen High football card for 1958.

Only one change is noted in opponents with McKeesport replacing Duquesne

Five home games are on tap for '58 including Windber, Monongahela, Johnstown, Charleroi, and Donora games.

Away tilts are set with Uniontown, Hempfield, Brownsville, Redstone and McKeesport.

The flu epidemic this year made two changes necessary in the schedule with the Johnstown game originally being set for away next year and Hempfield at home but the Johnstown game was not played in '57 and Hempfield agreed to come here to give the locals a more complete 1957 home schedule.

Following is the Greyhounds' '58 grid card:

Sept. 12 — Windber H
Sept. 19 — Monongahela — H
Sept. 26 — Uniontown A
Oct. 3 — Hempfield A
Oct. 10 — Brownsville A
Oct. 17 — Redstone A
Oct. 24 — Johnstown H
Oct. 31 — Charleroi H
Nov. 7 — McKeesport A
Nov. 16 — Donora H

Logart Favored In Welter Bout On TV Tonight

CLEVELAND Ohio (UP)— Cuban welterweight Isaac Logart was an early 8 and 7 to 5 favorite today to maintain his No 1 contender's seat against Gaspar Ortega of Mexico in a scheduled 12-round nationally televised bout here tonight.

Ortega, currently rated fourth among the 147-pound claimants planned no change in strategy which won split-decisions over Logart in two of their previous three engagements.

He has 17 KO's in his record of 42 wins, nine losses and one draw

Logart has 51 wins — with only seven losses and five draws

Tonight's bout is the first in a series of elimination matches to determine who will win the vacant crown abandoned by Carmen Basilio.

Other title contenders include Vince Martinez of Paterson, N.J., Virgil Akins of St Louis, Gil Turner of Philadelphia and George Barnes of Australia.

St. Cajetan's To Reorganize Cage Quintet

Men of St. Cajetan's R C Church here are planning to reorganize the church basketball team, it was announced today

A call has been sent out for the following cagers to contact Bob Manderino: Chip DiFelicis, Ernie Lattanzio, Tom and Frenchy Crisi, Sam Dominico, Mike Young, Dick DiCenzo, Steve Hardoby and Andy DeGioia and any others interested in playing for the team

A meeting has been set for Monday evening in the St. Cajetan church basement at 7 30 o'clock to discuss the reorganization.

Plans Set for Niccolai Dinner

Plans were all set today for the testimonial dinner for Monessen High grid mentor Armand Niccolai by his many friends to be held at the NIPA Hall here Sunday evening at 6 30 o'clock.

The popular Greyhound coach will be guest of honor at the affair planned by sports acquaintances and close friends, most of whom are members of the NIPA Association.

A few tickets remain and may be purchased at Bud Roman's sports shop.

Vernon, Rostraver Juniors Post Wins

Both Vernon and Rostraver Junior High School cage teams posted easy victories last night.

The Vernon five topped North Union by a 41-24 count in the opener for the local team while Rostraver's 38-17 triumph over Donora's Juniors was the second against one loss.

Summaries of the games:

Coach Kenny Clark's Vernon Junior High eleven got off on the right foot at North Union last night with a 41-24 decision over the North Union Juniors.

The Clarkmen took a 7-3 first quarter lead, increased it to 25-13 at the half and jumped it to 33-14 at the end of three quarters to win going away.

Due to the easy nature of the victory Clark used sent the entire Vernon squad into action.

Ron Feher sent 21 points through the nets to lead all scorers, hitting on seven field goals and seven free throws, Joey Lopez with eight and Daryl Ruby with seven markers gave Feher considerable support. Swany of North Union connected for 11 to pace the losers.

Next start for Vernon is at home with Bethlehem Joint next Tuesday.

Vernon — 41

Johnston, f, 1-0-2, Ambrose, f, 0-1-1; Ruby, c, 1-5-7; Lopez, g, 2-4-8, Feher, g, 7-7-21. Mahoney, g, 1-0-2 Totals — 12-17-41.

North Union — 24

Swany, f, 4-3-11; Stricto, f, 1-0-2, Plicta, c, 1-3-5; Hickle, g, 0-0-0; Kelly, g, 1-0-2, Merryman f, 2-0-4, Totals — 9-6-24.

Vernon	..	7	18	9	7—41
North Union		3	10	1	10—24

Officials — Rennanger, Williams.

Rostraver Junior High posted its second victory in three starts under Coach George Estok at the expense of the Donora Juniors yesterday at Rostraver with a convincing 38-17 victory.

Led by Willie Ross, who canned 23 points, Coach George Estok's lads took an 11-4 first quarter edge and increased it to 24-7 at halftume.

After Donora outscored the Little Leps by 8-2 the third period, Rostraver came back with a 12-2 fourth stanza for an easy win.

Tom Newman again gave Ross scoring help with eight markers while Russell and Johns with four each had the best Little Dragon scoring efforts.

Rostraver is idle until next Thursday when the cagers battle Monongahela away with a Charleroi game away on December 16.

New Officers

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UP)— Walter Donovan of Garden State Park, E. E. Dale Shaffer of Detroit and Robert Strub of Santa Anita have been elected to the board of directors of the Thoroughbred Racing Associations They replaced returing directors Carleton F. Burke of Santa Anita, Ben Lindheimer of Arlington Park and Eugene Mori of Hialeah Park.

Bellmar 'Boosters' Planned

Sports fans in the Belle Vernon-North Belle Vernon area are planning to organize a Booster Club, it was announced today.

Present plans call for a meeting Monday night at the American Legion home in North Belle Vernon to discuss the forming of the club.

Al Ferrari, president of the Charleroi Booster Club will address the group. Other speakers will be announced before the meeting.

Nomination and perhaps election of officers is also planned for the Monday's session.

Cards have been mailed to known avid sports fans in the area concerned but those in charge of arrangements for the Monday meeting urge all other interested persons to attend, a spokesman stated last night.

According to the spokesman, the purpose of the club is to foster increased interest in Bellmar High School sports which has been lagging the past few sports seasons.

Pitt Ready for Miami Eleven; On TV Tomorrow

MIAMI (UP)—The Pitt Panthers conducted a final workout today in preparation for their televised game Saturday with Miami in the Orange Bowl stadium.

Pitt arrived here by plane from Pittsburgh Thursday afternoon and immediately went to a Miami Beach field for a drill.

Miami coach Andy Gustafson, commenting on Pitt's player recruitment program, said the school had done "a terrific job."

To back up his claim, Gustafson said that in 1950 he could boast of 16 players from the football-rich Western Pennsylvania area. This year, he said, he has only four players from the area

"Johnny Michelosen and his assistants have kept those boys at home. All the more credit to them, I say."

Gustafson, in listing his four Western Pennsylvania players, did not count quarterback Frank Curci The Miami coach pointed out, however, that the 5-9, 142-pound field general actually was born in Sewickley and spent the first six years of his life there.

Colts Up Prices

BALTIMORE (UP) — The Baltimore Colts have announced a new scale of ticket prices for next season. The increases, ranging from 50 cents to $1, were necessary because of higher player salaries and soaring operational costs.

Locals Seek First Victory in Three Exhibition Starts

Monessen High School's cagers try for their initial victory against Johnstown here tonight.

Game time is set for 8 o'clock with a Jayvee game at 7 to precede the varsity clash.

Coach Frank Janosik will probably go with his usual starters of Joe Kurey and Bill Makinen at forward, Dick DiBiaso at center with Myron Sepitko and Charlie Bill at guards.

Carl Payne and George Murin may break into the starting lineup.

Dropped Two Tilts

The locals opened with a 61-44 loss to McKeesport then bowed to tough Greensburg 42-38 Tuesday night.

Johnstown owns a 55-28 victory over Clearfield in the opener for the Johnnies.

Other games tonight involving Mon Valley Conference (Section 5-A) teams show Charleroi at Homestead, Brownsville at Centerville, Uniontown at Monongahela, Elizabeth-Forward at Donora and North Union at California

Coach Janosik of the locals will be looking for improved rebounding and outside shooting tonight plus more accuracy on layups, a pitfall in the Greensburg contest.

Bellmar-Leopard Tilt at Marion Court Tonight

Bellmar and Rostraver meet in their annual "backyard" cage game tonight at Marion Junior High gym where all of the Bellmar home games will be played this year.

The Hurricanes, coached by Tom Healey, former Wellsville, O., High School mentor, for the first time this season, have had trouble getting started, dropping the first two games to Elizabeth-Forward and West Newton.

Rostraver, under George Everett has broken even in two tilts, topping Perry but losing to Elizabeth-Forward.

Against the mutual foe, Elizabeth, comparative scores saw Bellmar lose by 38-26 and Rostraver bow, 62-55.

The Hurricanes have height but lack experience. Rostraver also sports a green team.

Marion's gym floor has been renewed for the coming current basketball season as it will be used all season as a temporary home by the 'Canes until the new Bellmar gym is completed in North Belle Vernon sometime in 1958.

Game time tonight is 8 o'clock preceded by a 7 o'clock Jayvee tilt.

Pitt, Tech Fives Face Tall Centers In Tilts Tonight

By UNITED PRESS

Pitt hosts Furman and Carnegie Tech meets DePauw tonight in featured basketball games involving Western Pennsylvania College teams.

Furman center Steve Ross, 6-feet-9, was expected to give the Panthers defense a busy night in the game at Pitt's Memorial Field House.

Pitt goes into the game against the Greenville, S.C., team with an opening game win against Michigan to its credit.

Carnegie Tech, on the other hand, hosts DePauw, of Greencastle, Ind., after losing its opener to Duquesne, 72-58. DePauw also boasts a giant center, 6-7, 210-pound Chuck Cleaver.

DePauw, which posted a 12-0 record last season, lost its opener this year to Wheaton, 75-68.

In other district games tonight, the National Agricultural College meets Gannon at Erie, and Thiel travels to Cambridge Springs to meet Alliance.

In Thursday night games, Indiana Teachers defeated Lock Haven, 95-80. Juniata topped Bridgewater, 83-63, and Waynesburg beat National Agricultural, 66-58.

Bower Threat To AHL Goalie Marks

By UNITED PRESS

Johnny Bower, who couldn't make it with the New York Rangers, is threatening today to carry off all existing American Hockey League goaltending records.

Bower produced his third straight shutout at Cleveland walloped the Hershey Bears, 9-0, in Thursday night's only game. The five-foot, nine-inch veteran now has a scoreless skein of 201 minutes and 15 seconds working for him, a little less than 20 minutes under the league record established by Nick Damore of Hershey during the 1939-40 campaign.

Bower, who already holds the AHL career high of 42 shutouts, is four behind the season record of nine set by Gordie Bell of Buffalo in 1942-43.

Pro Title Honors Could Hinge on Steelers Tilt, Two Other Contests

NEW YORK (UP)— This is a week of decision in professional football. When the action winds up or three fronts — at Pittsburgh, Detroit and San Francisco, the championship of both divisions of the National League could be settled. Or there could be a grand old mixup with five teams, the Baltimore Colts, San Francisco 49'ers, and Detroit Lions tied in the West, and the New York Giants still vying with the Cleveland Browns for the Eastern section honors.

If San Francisco, Detroit and New York win, all five of the afore mentioned elevens will still be battling for the playoff loot. If San Francisco and the Browns win, the 49'ers will be tied with the Colts in the West, and the Browns will be champions of the East. If the Colts win and the Lions lose, Baltimore and the Browns will be champions, and meet in the playoff for the title. There's a lot of ifs and ands and buts about this weekend among the pros. While no one expects it, a defeat for the Giants at Pittsburgh Saturday afternoon would automatically give the title to Cleveland, but that just isn't in the cards.

Saturday: The New York Giants over the Steelers at Forbes Field 27-17.

Sunday: At Detroit, the Cleveland Browns will defeat the Lions by a 31-28 score. At San Francisco, the 49'ers will take the Baltimore Colts 24-21. At Los Angeles, the Rams will win from the Green Bay Packers 35-28 in a razzle dazzle. At Washington, the Redskins will be too good for the Eagles, beating them 21-14. At Chicago, the oldest rivalry in pro football will be resumed and the Chicago Bears will win from the Cardinals at Comiskey Park, 35-24.

College football sings its swan song this weekend with three games. At Dallas, Texas, Notre Dame will conclude a fine season, winding up with Southern Methodist. At Miami, Fla., Pitt Panthers will beat Miami 19-12. Both contests will be played in bowl stadiums, the N.D.-SMU game in the Cotton Bowl, and the Pitt-Miami struggle in the Orange Bowl. That winds up college play until the post season affairs.

Pirates Sign Burwell, Oceak As New Coaches

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today announced the appointment of two new coaches, Bill Burwell and Frank Oceak, for the 1958 season.

Burwell, 62, who makes his home in Daytona Beach, Fla., is in his 43rd season of professional baseball as a player, coach, scout and manager. Burwell, who will coach at third base, was a managerial consultant for the Pirates' minor league organization last year.

Oceak, 45, Johnstown, Pa., was manager of Pittsburgh's Columbus Farm Club in the International League and will coach at first base next year. He is the oldest manager in the Pirate organization in point of continuous service as a player and coach.

A native of Pocahontas, Va., Oceak began his career with Cumberland, Md., in the old Middle Atlantic League as a shortstop. He later played at Wheeling, W. Va., Norfolk and Binghamton in the Eastern League in 1950.

In 1942, Oceak moved into the Pirate organization as manager at Oil City in the Penn State League. After a tour of duty with the Seabees he managed at York and at Charleston in the Sally League. He piloted at Brunswick, Ga., in 1954 to 1956 before moving to Columbus.

Giants Six-Point Favorite Over Steeler Eleven

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers have been established six-point underdogs for their clash with the New York Giants at Forbes Field Saturday.

Coach Buddy Parker sent his charges through a long workout Thursday to make up for the day they lost Wednesday when snow covered Forbes Field. Parker ordered another long drill for this morning.

The Steelers will be out to avenge an earlier 35-0 loss to the Giants in Yankee Stadium and are expected to pull all stops against the National Football League champions in their final home games.

The Giants arrived here by train today and were scheduled to hold a workout at Forbes Field this afternoon.

Local Juniors At Home Today

Coach Frederic Feldman's Junior High cagers host Clairton's Juniors here this afternoon in the third game of the season for the unbeaten locals.

Previously the Feldman crew has topped Rostraver and Fallowfield Junior High quints.

VIRGINIA VAN WIE

Virginia Van Wie, one of the greatest women golfers of all time, swept three straight U.S. amateur championships in 1932, 1933 and 1934. She was regarded as invincible until, unexpectedly in 1935, her string of championships was ended by a comeback of Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare. Miss Van Wie suddenly withdrew from competition.

Whatever happened to Virginia Van Wie? She is back in golf today and recently opened an indoor golf school in Chicago.

Ruler or Dedicate 'Horse of Year'?

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UP)—The men who know racing best argued loud and long today whether Dedicate or Bold Ruler should be acclaimed "Horse of the Year."

Dedicate, a five-year-old owned by Mrs. Jan Burke, was announced as "American Champion" Thursday night at the annual awards dinner of the Thoroughbred Racing Associations here.

The selection was a distinct surprise, for Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler had been favored for the honor. Bold Ruler previously was chosen "Horse of the Year" by staff members of the Daily Racing Form-Morning Telegraph.

The TRA equivalent of "Horse of the Year" is determined by a vote of racing secretaries of the 22 member tracks. The TRA did not announce the exact vote. Earlier in the week, the same racing secretaries chose Dedicate as the 1957 handicap champion and Bold Ruler as three-year-old of the year.

Minoso 'Surprised' Sox Traded Him

HAVANA, Cuba (P — Minnie Minoso admitted today he "was surprised" when the White Sox traded him to the Cleveland Indians "because I thought I was one of Chicago's untouchables."

The 35-year-old outfielder, who is playing for Marianao in the Cuban Winter League, said he learned of the trade while listening to a news broadcast on his car radio.

Braves Get Rush, Kaiser From Chicubs in Five-Player Swap

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UP)— Exuberant Fred Haney foresees another world championship for Milwaukee next year, and no one can argue much today in the face of a pitching staff that now includes Lew Burdette, Warren Spahn and big Bob Rush, too.

"Happy? That ain't the word," grinned the little Milwaukee manager after acquiring Rush from the Cubs Thursday night in a five-player deal.

Along with the right-handed Rush, the Braves obtained another right-handed pitcher, Don Kaiser, plus outfielder Ed Haas.

To get those three, the Braves gave up southpaw Taylor Phillips and catcher Sam Taylor.

Some baseball men seemed to feel the Cubs were short-changed but General Manager John Holland, who swung the Chicago end of the deal, didn't think so.

Minors End Talks

Meanwhile the epoch-making minor league convention ended here today after one of the stormiest weeks in the history of baseball—and the prospects of more turbulence to come.

The embattled owners sparring with a slump that has seen the nation's minor league structure fade from a high of 56 leagues in the early post war years to 27 for 1958, have threatened to go to court to keep the majors from televising a "game of the week" on Sundays.

These are the items that promise trouble ahead.

All settled is "operation big switch" — the realignment of the major and minor league map in United States.

The Giants are set in San Francisco and the Dodgers (ostensibly) are set in Los Angeles.

The Pacific Coast League has added three new cities — Spokane, Wash., Phoenix, Ariz., and Salt Lake City, Utah.

Loses Key City

The Pioneer Loop, with its key city gone in Salt Lake, may wind up with a six-team league.

The Class AA Texas League will either re-locate the Shreveport club outside Louisiana or sell it to another owner. And it plans to bring in Mexico City and Monterrey from the Mexican League.

Such leagues as the Big State, the Three Eye, the Northern and several others added new cities and look optimistically ahead to a big year.

But over the horizon looms the "bogey-man" of baseball - television.

The minors also took two drastic steps in their rules and regulations. They voted to eliminate the bonus rule and they approved commissioner Ford Frick's "unrestricted" draft idea.

These, however, await approval from the majors who open their sessions today.

Last Game Tonight

OTTAWA (UP)— Russia's touring amateur hockey team will complete its Canadian exhibitions tonight with a return game against the Hull-Ottawa Junior Canadiens. The Russians whipped the Junior Canadiens, 6-3, at Montreal last Sunday.

Fight Results—

REVERE, Mass.: Joe Devlin, 150¼, Boston, stopped Rocky Ford, 144½ Brooklyn (5).

LOS ANGELES: Paulie Armstead, 132, Los Angeles, outpointed Jimmy Lassiter, 135, Fort Smith, Ark., (10).

Minnesota Five Nips Iowa State, NCS-Wake Forest in 'Rough One'

By FRANK LITSKY

Basketball players from Minnesota wore red faces and those from North Carolina State wore red body bruises today but each team had a victory to soothe its ills.

Minnesota nosed out Iowa State, 67-66, Thursday night at Minneapolis although Iowa State's Lyle Frahm and John Crawford continually stole the ball from the bewildered Gophers. North Carolina State whipped Wake Forest, 62-51, at Winston-Salem, N.C., in a game marked by hot tempers and brutal backboard bumping in the second half.

A full-court press helped Iowa State tie Minnesota in the second half before sophomore guard Marlo Miller went to work. Miller scored 13 points in the half and 16 for the night to keep it safe for Minnesota. Frahm scored 21 for Iowa State.

Hard Fought Game

North Carolina State's tight zone, 49 per cent shooting average and backboard control provided its victory in the first game of the Atlantic Coast Conference season, although Wake Forest fought mightily for the rebounds. There were several spills under the boards, and Dave Budd of Wake Forest was almost kayoed when he hit the floor head first. Bob MacGillivray led the North Carolina State scorers with 20 points.

Mississippi State broke its own scoring record by doubling the opposition's score in a 114-57 victory over Howard College of Alabama. Six-foot-seven Bailey Howell, who led the nation in field goal accuracy as a sophomore last year, scored 28 points.

Other Major Games

St. John's breezed by Roanoke, 86-62. Richmond won a 72-62 Southern Conference game from Virginia Tech. Tulsa took the lead for good with 3:45 to go to beat New Mexico A&M, 62-56. Houston made the most of its superior height to overrun Texas A&M, 76-50

In other leading games, Georgia Tech beat Alabama, 73-62; Nebraska won from Wyoming, 77-66; and Princeton struggled to a 75-72 triumph over Lafayette.

In the top game tonight, Michigan State, the Big Ten pre-season favorite, visits the University of Detroit. Michigan State was ranked sixth nationally in the pre-season ratings of the United Press board of coaches. Other games: Rice - Oklahoma City, Duke-Clemson, Marquette - Missouri, Cincinnati - Indiana State, Pittsburgh-Furman, Haverford-Navy, Texas Christian - McMurry, Louisiana State - Louisiana College and Colgate-Bucknell.

Washington Twp. School Board Lists Committees

Committees for the current year were named at the reorganization meeting of the Washington Township School Board held on Monday evening.

John Kasuda will serve on supplies and equipment; Leo Valdiserri, buildings and grounds; Richard Hamer, athletics and activities, S E. Koslasky, transportation and Blandon Bulger, personnel and finance

Kasuda and Valdiserri were re-elected president and vice president respectively.

Two new wall pads were purchased for the Marion Junior High School gymnasium since the floor was recently renovated.

It was reported that Washington Township Parent Teacher Association will suspend activities in the canteen dance program until after basketball season.

All board members attended the session along with Supervising Principal Robert VanBremen, Marion Principal Harold Underwood, and Solicitor Joseph Rygiel.

Mrs. Joseph Kondracki of Belle Vernon R.D. 1 is a medical patient in the Monongahela Memorial Hospital.

Bellmar Class of 1953 in First Re union on Saturday

Covers were laid for 74 members and guests when Bellmar High School Class of 1953 held the first reunion since graduation. It was held at the Charleroi Elks Club on Saturday evening.

Invocation was asked by Louis Woodson. Each cover was marked with souvenirs, and each class member received an engraved champagne glass from which a toast was drunk.

Albert Zema, class president, was toastmaster. He presented many gifts. Mary Catherine Randall Maraccini was presented an award for being the longest married; Nancy Pascoe Trombino, most children; Patricia Koffee Marjak, traveling the longest distance to attend; Charles Hewitt Jr., youngest child; Dorothea Yelanich Rocca, most recently married.

Guest awards were given to Bill Kossack, Shirley Strickler Kourch, Tom Quintier, Bill Janeri, Dorothea Rocca, Tom Gilchrist, Phyllis Giuliano Melvin, Ralph Krouch, Lorrain Lemley, Guy Patterson, Joan Brazack Rugh, Michael Rocc- John Parshall, Nancy Trombino and Jim Bricker.

Nancy Hixenbaugh read the class prophecy, and Thomas Quintier made a survey of the members and determined that there are now 37 percent of them married. Charles Beazell took moving pictures, and the remainder of the time was spent in dancing.

On the committee in charge were Zema, Charles Beazell, Anna Bitonti, Mary Ann Pozum Bricker, Tom Quintier, Joyce Biagini Como, Gilbert Coursin, Patsy Weaver Gilchrist, Phyllis Melvin, Ralph Niccolai, Rose Piersa Parshall, Kay Crawford Patterson, Joan Quintier, Joan Rugh and Angelo Tollari.

Women of Moose Hold Christmas Party Tuesday

A social service chapter night and Christmas party were held on Tuesday evening for the Belle Vernon Women of the Moose. The meeting was opened by Thelma Smock, senior regent.

Edith Thot, chaplain and Junior Regent Alice Mayllen took part in the opening ritual.

Marge Lambert, recorder, reported on last meeting and announced that there were 33 members answering roll call.

During chapter night program the birthday anniversaries of Louise Nichols, Elizabeth Marciniak, Ilene Cathers and Mary Brooks were observed. Each received a cake and a card

The cake and prizes were donated by Nina Dwzinsky, chapter night chairman, and members of her committee, Alice Mayllen and Ann Escareno. The prizes were won by Alice Mayllen, Thelma Smock, Ethel Turner and Nina Dwzinsky.

The Christmas party following the meeting was held at the Park Casino. Table appointments and decorations were carried out in a Christmas season motif. Edith Thot asked the invocation.

After dinner there was carol singing, and gifts and candy were distributed to the members. Senior Regent Thelma Smock remembered each of her officers and committee chairmen with gifts.

A number of guest awards were won by Naomi Brizzi, Ethel Turner, Margaret Davis, Agnes Wisniski, Alberta Brandon, Alice Mayllen. These were donated by the gift committee which included Marge Lambert, Thelma Smock, Ann Guth and Helen Henry.

The next meeting will be held on Dec. 17 with the executive session at 7 o'clock and chapter meeting at 7:30. All members are asked to attend since this is the final session before the annual banquet.

PTA Executive Meeting Held At Stump Home

Mrs. John Glotfelty was hostess to members of the executive committee of the Washington Township Parent Teacher Association at her home on Monday evening. Mrs. John Stump, president, was in charge.

Mrs. Glotfelty reported on the membership of the unit, and Mrs. John Perun reported on the bake sale planned during the social hour following the regular meeting to be held on Dec. 16.

There will be two speakers on the program at that session. The Rev. Charles Ribick, pastor of St. Edward Roman Catholic Church of Fayette City, and the Rev. James Percy of the Lynnwood Lutheran Church will bring Christmas messages. Children of PTA members will be given a treat.

Mrs. Paul Trenk, chairman of the social committee, will be in charge of the social hour following. The next executive session will be Jan. 6, at the home of Mrs. Michael Wysochanski.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Stump, Mrs. Nick Pozum, Mrs. Ella Liptrot, Mrs. Wysochanski, Mrs. Edward Britton, Mrs. John Perun, Mrs. Paul Trenk, Mrs. Thomas Nahaj, Mrs. George VanOsterum, Mrs. Robert Hartsock and Mrs. Glotfelty.

Loyal Women's Class Election, Annual Party

A Christmas dinner party and the election of officers highlighted the Tuesday evening meeting of the Loyal Women's Class of the First Christian Church held in the church social rooms.

A 6:30 dinner was served at a table centered with an arrangement of red and white flowers. All other appointments were in seasonable motif.

After dinner Mrs. Jennie Bowen was in charge of the devotional program. The group joined in singing carols and prayer, after which a poem, "Our Guide," was read.

Mrs. Bowen discussed the theme "Why God Sent Forth His Son." There was a minute of silence for the deceased class members, after which Mrs. Esther Mazza offered prayer.

A brief memorial service was conducted for the late Addison Winnett, who was an active worker in the church for many years.

Mrs. John Cadman, president, conducted the business session during which officers were elected. Mrs. Sam Roberts was elected president, Mrs. Alice Smith, secretary; Mrs. Esther Mazza, vice president, Mrs. Bertha Forsberg, treasurer and Mrs. Mary Price, flower fund chairman. Mrs. Mazza will serve as historian.

Gifts were exchanged, and the evening was concluded with the serving of dessert.

Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Bertha MacDonald were appointed to be hostesses for the January meeting to be held in the church social rooms. Mrs. Jack Frazier will be devotional leader.

Card Club Meets At Costantino Home

Mrs. Lill Costantino was hostess to members of her club at her home on Wednesday evening.

Two tables of cards were in play. High score awards were won by Lillian Costantino, Margaret Bercini, Mary Lori and Patty Aubrey of Monessen. The latter was present as a guest.

Luncheon was served, and plans were made for a Christmas party to be held at the home of Mrs. Mary Peroney in two weeks.

WCTU Group to Meet on Tuesday

The December meeting of the Belle Vernon Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held next Tuesday at 12 o'clock noon at the home of Mrs. Louise Sellars, 408 Jones St.

There will be a business session, temperance study and social hour.

Girl Scouts Investiture to Be Held Dec. 20

Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 31 met on Tuesday evening in the Girl Scout Little House. Karen Evans called the roll, and Mary Eileen Dunn collected dues.

Each girl received an invitation to take home to her parents for the investiture and Christmas party to be held Dec. 20. Plans were completed for the event, and the girls rehearsed for the ceremony.

Names were drawn for the gift exchange.

November and December birthdays were observed, and those celebrating were presented with gifts.

Mrs. Freda Martin, leader, distributed candy among the girls. She was assisted by Mrs. Ann Nesti and Linda Brewer.

Dances Suspended

Marion Junior High School canteen dances sponsored by the Washington Township Parent Teacher Association have been suspended for the duration of basketball season. The gymnasium is being used for Bellmar High School basketball games.

Blandon Bulger Reelected to Head Jointure

Blandon Bulger was re-elected president of the Bellmarette Joint School Board at the annual reorganization meeting held on Wednesday evening in the Bellmar High School library.

James Hamer was reelected vice president. Michael Yencsik, who was seated on the North Belle Vernon Board on Dec. 2 was welcomed as a member of the Joint Board.

Other officers serving the board include J. E. Kuhn, recording secretary; Clifford Breakwell, financial secretary and Ben Sarra, treasurer.

The highlight of the session was the appointment of the committees for the next year by the component boards, and there was a brief intermission so that each could name a chairman. Committees include:

Personnel and finance, Kuhn, chairman, Breakwell, Bulger and George Hancock; athletic and activities, Joseph Hoffman Jr., chairman, Stephen Ruby, Richard Hamer and Ben Sarra; buildings and grounds, Leo Valdiserri, chairman, George Boston, George Trozzo and Roy Shook; transportation, Gerald Stanley, chairman, Yencsik, James Hamer and S. E. Koslasky; supplies and equipment, Carmine Natalini, chairman, John Kasuda, Charles Lakel, Lewis Gilliland; administrative, James Hamer, George Trozzo, Ruby and Kasuda, presidents of the four component boards.

The special building committee will remain the same, Kuhn and Gilliland, Belle Vernon; Ruby and Breakwell, North Belle Vernon; James Hamer and George Hancock, Fayette City; Kasuda and Richard Hamer, Washington Township. Bulger will be an official member of all committees.

Directors Attending

Attending the session from Belle Vernon were Trozzo, Hoffman, Stanley and Kuhn; North Belle Vernon, all members; Fayette City, Hancock and Sarra; Washington Township, Kasuda, Bulger, Richard Hamer and Valdiserri.

Robert VanBremen, supervising principal of Bellmarette Schools; Joseph Brisbane, elementary supervisor and Solicitor John E. Costello were also in attendance.

Kuhn presented a letter from television station WQED asking that the television educational program be adopted in the local schools at a cost of 30 cents per student. This would amount to $710.10 for the entire district. The project was tabled.

The special building committee reported on conference jobs 6, 7, 8 and 9. It was also stated that the selection of brick and the wall for Marion Junior High School addition was approved.

The building and grounds committee reported that furnace repairs were made for Vernon Junior High School and Belle Vernon Elementary School.

There were no reports from the athletic, supplies, transportation and personnel and finance committees.

In VanBremen's report he showed the application of all reimbursement fractions in computing state subsidies. He also submitted a list of furniture selected by school personnel for the new additions. The furniture will cost in excess of $45.000.

Detailed Report

VanBremen gave a detailed report of the local observance of National Education Week in November. It was very successful.

A request was received from the Mid Mon Valley Dental Society asking that pupils be excused for dental appointments. In accordance with the present practice it was decided not to excuse students for dental or medical appointments only in case of emergency.

VanBremen announced that the state will conduct a special audit of receipts and expenditures of school districts. A list of names was submitted by the Charleroi School District of adults taking adult education classes in their schools. The board is not permitted by local ruling to pay any adult tuition.

VanBremen announced that all supervising principals have been requested by the Department of Public Instruction to offer any suggestion for changes in the present school laws. He requested the cooperation of the board members in this matter. He also announced that emphasis was being placed on the need for mathematics, science, social studies, English and reading in the curriculum.

The supervising principal was given authority to issue all work permits in the joint schools.

A report was given on the renovation of the Marion Junior High School gym floor at a cost of $800.

Band Requests

Lloyd Christopher was present representing the Bellmarette Band Boosters. He asked permission to place a plaque and an oil painting of the late Ernest Dolfi, who was band director, in the new band room upon completion. He also asked about uniforms for the band directors since there are now two of them.

This was referred to the supplies committee. Approval was asked for the Band Boosters to send the band to Pennsylvania State University in 1958 for Band Day if the needed funds could be raised. This was referred to the athletic and activities committee. A vote of thanks was extended by the board for the cooperation of this organization.

Jointure membership in Pennsylvania State School Directors Association was renewed. The men voted to accept Fayette County Commissioners offer to install voting machines in the secondary schools for instruction.

Breakwell submitted a financial report which was approved.

The Bellmar chapter Future Homemakers of America served luncheon to the men after the meeting.

Washington Twp. Auxiliary Holds Christmas Party

Covers were laid for 23 members when the Ladies Auxiliary to the Washington Township Volunteer Fire Co. held a Christmas party on Wednesday evening at the Blue Top Hotel.

Red tapers and other seasonable appointments decorated the table for the serving of a turkey dinner.

Gifts were exchanged among the members, and each officer was presented a gift by the auxiliary.

A program of entertainment featured ballet and tap dances by Sharon Richie and Bernadette Barron. Sketches and imitations were presented by Paul Lewis of Belle Vernon and Fal Greco of Monongahela.

The women exchanged holiday greetings as the "good night" feature.

On Dec. 10 the auxiliary will meet, and next Monday the women will sponsor another in the series on Monday evening parties that are open to the public. It will be held in the fire hall

Young Democrats To Meet Sunday

Washington Township Chapter of Young Democrat Club will meet on Sunday in the Fairhope Rod and Gun Club at 3 p.m. The nomination of officers will be completed and the election held.

Mrs. Betty Dolfi, Charles Pabis, Pete Tallerico, members of the club have all been nominated for Fayette County offices also.

Winter Recreation Program to Open

Winter recreation under the sponsorship of the Belle Vernon School District will begin tomorrow at Vernon Junior High School.

It will be for boys in the 4th, 5th and 6th grades in the elementary school and in the junior high school.

Kenneth Clark, athletic instructor, will be in charge.

Methodist Church To Elect Trustees

On Sunday morning after the worship service in the First Methodist Church there will be a congregational meeting for the purpose of electing three members to the Board of Trustees.

The service will be slightly shortened, but will be an observance of the advent season. The pastor, the Rev. William Schatz, will speak on "The Mastery of Life."

The choir will present special music. "Awake O Zion," with Harold Robins as soloist; "There is A Song in the Air" with Mrs. C. W. Bierwirth as soloist and the offertory solo, "The Child Jesus" with Mrs. Robert Lewis as soloist.

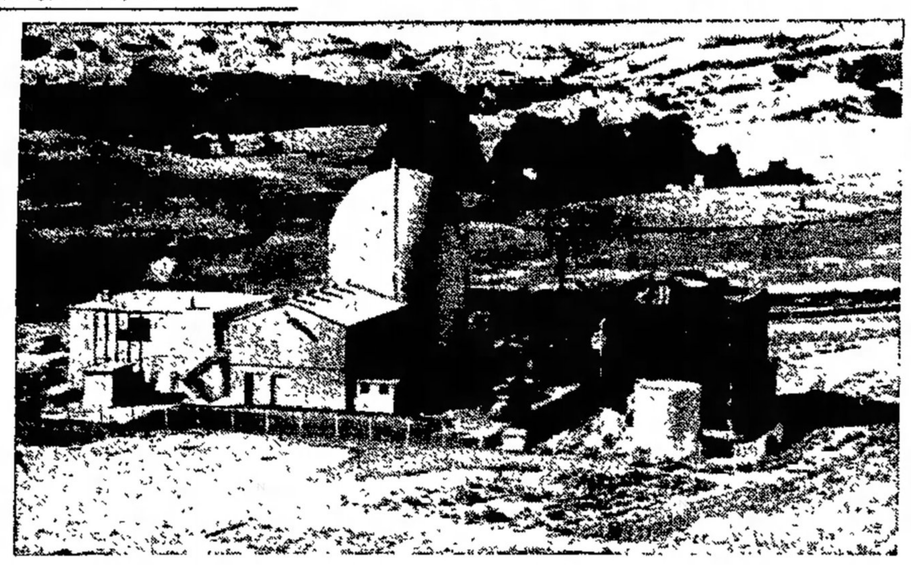
Forests and Waters Personnel Changes

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Forests and Waters Department today announced these personnel changes:

Wilford P. Moll, 215 Hancock Ave., Norristown, transferred from Harrisburg to Port Kennedy, Montgomery County, to take over as district forester, replacing Paul M. Felton, Norristown RD 1. Moll had been chief of the department's Division of State Parks. Felton was transferred to the Parks Division.

Joseph A. Blatt, Imler RD 1, Bedford County, promoted to Moll's position as chief of the Division of State Parks. Blatt had been a park planning specialist with the department.



FIRST PRIVATELY-FINANCED ATOMIC POWER PLANT — It's the newly dedicated Pacific Gas and Electric company nuclear power plant at Pleasanton, Calif., the world's first privately-financed nuclear power plant. Doomed cylinder houses the GE boiling water reactor, and in front of that is the turbine-generator facility. Control building is at left, and at right is the tower for cooling condensed water.

Many School Mergers Okayed In the State

HARRISBURG (UP)—Pennsylvania voters moved to abolish 50 school districts in merger referenda held during the Nov. 5 elections.

The state Public Instruction Department said voters in 17 counties elected to abolish 76 districts and create 26 new jointures. Elections in nine other counties rejected school district merge pols.

Department Superintendent Dr. Charles H. Boehm said next July when the new districts are put into operation, the state would have a total of 2,353 separate districts. Boehm called the election results a "fine example of democratic action."

"Although the elimination of 50 districts is the best single effort in one year for nearly a half century, it will still take about 25 years at this rate before the number of school districts is reduced to the recommended minimum," Boehm said. The department has recommended 575-600 school districts as the minimum.

Somerset County lead the mergers by voting to abolish nine districts, followed by Perry County with seven, and Lancaster County, six.

Bases Evacuated

TUNIS, Tunisia (UP) — President Habib Bourguiba said today that French troops had peacefully evacuated several military posts in southern Tunisia. He said the move would "reinforce confidence between our two countries." Bourguiba, who has been pressing for withdrawal of France's 20,000 troops from Tunisia, said the French had evacuated bases at Medenine, Foum Tatouine, Tozeur, Douz and Ben Gardane.

Mrs. Mildred Onufar Heads St. Edward's Ladies Guild

Mrs. Mildred Onufar was named to head the Ladies Guild and Christian Mothers Society of St. Edward's Catholic Church, Fayette City, at a meeting Tuesday evening in the church social rooms.

Elected to serve with Mrs. Onufar for 1958 were Mrs. Anna Blatnik, vice-president; Mrs. Frank Rihtarcik, secretary; Mrs. Catherine Berna, treasurer. Mrs. Emma Yelanich and Mrs. Alice Dubinsky, finance secretaries; Mrs. May Traversari, historian; Mrs. Margie Chicchiani and Eleanor Krempasky, public relations; Ruth McGinsky and Margaret Pozum, ways and means.

The meeting opened with a spiritual talk by the Rev. Charles Ribick who selected for his subject: "Move Forward in Unity and Charity."

Ruth McGinsky, president of the society, conducted the routine business which included the election and appointment of committees for this year's remaining activities. Mrs. Michael Rocca Jr. was inducted as a new member.

Plans were made for the annual children's Christmas party. The date was set for Sunday afternoon of Dec. 22. Mrs. Stella Levendosky and Zora Kostalac are the general co-chairmen.

A program will be arranged by Mary Vargo, Kathryn Vesely, and Emma Yelanich. Santa Claus will be on hand with a gift for each child.

The annual New Year's Eve part will be in charge of the officers, Mrs. McGinsky, Margaret Baran, Ageline Barch and Marie Koliscak.

During the past year the members were asked to stretch the dollar given to them in January.

The accounting and awards were given by the chairman, Mrs. Michael Rocca Sr. at the meeting. The three top winners were Anna Blatnik, first; Mary Worry, second; and Margaret Pozum, third. Runnersup were Margaret Baran, Emma Yelanich, Gloria Lint, Anna Lovich and Teressa Berna.

The members were reminded that on Sunday, Dec. 15, Communion will be received in a body at the early mass.

Following the meeting a Christmas party was enjoyed with the members exchanging gifts. The group sang Christmas carols and presented an appropriate seasonal program.

Hostesses for the event were Margaret Pozum, Rose Package, Mary McKee, Emma Rathway, Anna Galla, Mary Worry, Delores Shimko, Frances Seaman, and Mary Seaman.

Door prizes were awarded to Julia Sobek, Ida May Berna, Anna Turcheck, Catherine Cvetan, Helen Bolchak and Nellie Basile. The affair concluded with Father Ribick thanking the women for their part in the care of the church during the past year and with the recitation of prayers led by Mrs. McGinsky.

Visiting with Parents

Charles Grados, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Grados, Middle St., is spending the next thirty days visiting with his parents. He is on leave from the U.S. Navy after spending the past year in Japanese waters. He will return to San Francisco following his leave for further sea duty.

For Permanent U.S. Air Base

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. John P. Saylor (R-Pa.) advocates the establishment of a permanent U.S. air base in the Antarctic.

Saylor, the first congressman to fly over the South Pole, returned Wednesday from a trip to the Antarctic. The congressman, a lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserve, said the trip combined Navy training for himself and inspection for the House Interior Committee of which he is a member.

Saylor, of Johnstown, Pa., said the Antarctic has a "tremendous future" for aviation since a base there would cut the flight time between Southern Asia, Australia, New Zealand and South America.

Arthur Godfrey Pays Record for Champion Steer

CHICAGO (UP)—Television performer Arthur Godfrey yesterday paid a record price of $30 a pound for the grand champion steer of the International Livestock Exposition.

The sum, totaling $30,000, went to Mrs. Sue Secondino, 19, West Terre Haute, Ind. She broke down and cried.

The raven-haired young farm wife said she and her husband, Pete, 23, will use the money to buy their own farm. The summer yearling Hereford, Honeymoon, weighed "right on 1,000 pounds," she said.

Godfrey, conducting his network TV show from the auction ring, bid $30 a pound to eclipse the previous high bid of $26.25 by Howard Johnson Jr., vice president of a restaurant and motel chain.

The previous record was set last year when Penn State University sold the grand champion for $20.50 a pound—a total price of $20.367.

Reds Charge Allies

BERLIN (UP)— The East German Communist government charged today that the western allies have forfeited their right to be in Berlin. In the official 1957 yearbook of the German Democratic Republic, the Reds said the United States, Britain and France have violated Berlin's four-power status by converting West Berlin into a spy center for counter-revolution against the Soviet Zone. By doing this, they have deprived themselves of the right to stay in the divided city, the Reds said

ATOMIC CRUISER STARTED — A big crane lifts keel (left) of the new atomic cruiser Long Beach, to set it down on those blocks (right, way down there) at Fore River, Mass. The 172-foot warship will be the U. S. Navy's first guided missile cruiser with atomic power. It will be fitted with the most modern surface-to-surface and surface-to-air missiles, including the Talos, Terrier and Regulus.

Santa Sets Out on Annual Trek

FRANKFURT, Germany (UP)—Santa Claus set out today on his annual joy-bringing trek around the world. His trip once more will demonstrate that Christmas comes several times a year, despite the old saying. In Europe there will be four separate Christmas - type observances between now and Jan. 6.

Today, Santa was busy carrying cheer across Holland on a white horse, and lugging a bundle of green twigs around Germany.

His duties run through Jan. 6, the day of "Old Christmas" in Spain and Italy. A jet - propelled youngster could really clean up by being in enough right places at the right time.

Christmas Preview Today

Today is St. Nicholas Day, a religious holiday. As a sort of Christmas preview in Germany, Santa Claus distributes bundles of green switches and packets of chocolates and candies to remind children they must behave if they want larger rewards on Christmas Day.

Swiss children get the same reminders.

In Bari, Italy, it is a day of religious commemoration in tribute to the first Saint Nicholas, who is buried there. But the religious holiday, and the saint, really had no connection with modern Christmas ceremonies.

In Holland, nevertheless, this was the big day. Santa Claus cantered through the streets of Amsterdam on an impressive white horse. His blackamoor servant, "Black Piet," followed with a bundle of switches.

Dutch children and their parents, who started celebrating with a massive dinner last night, exchanged their presents today. Practical jokers presented their masterpieces after weeks of planning, and shook with deep-bellied Dutch laughter as the recipients unwrapped pencils hidden deep in three-foot long imitation cigarets, and herrings in canary cages.

Santa Takes Breather

Tomorrow Santa takes a breather. On Dec. 24 he plunges into the second round — Scandinavia, Austria, Switzerland and Germany again, where presents are opened on Christmas Eve.

Although aircraft, helicopters and even Sputniks were being pressed into service in the rest of the world, Finnish children know he drives down from Lappland in a curly - runnered sled drawn by Finland's own reindeer.

The next day, Dec. 25, Santa makes his rounds of Great Britain, Portugal, and France—where he leaves his gifts in wooden homes in front of the fireplace, or on the radiator if fireplaces are lacking.

Britain keeps on celebrating through Dec. 26, which is called "Boxing Day."

And finally, on "Old Christmas"—Jan. 6—there's a last round for the weary old man, to Spain and Italy, although in the latter he gets a helping hand.

23 Africans Killed

NAIROBI, Kenya (UP) — Raiding Merille tribesmen killed 23 peaceful herdsmen last week in a sudden outbreak of tribal warfare on Kenya's plains, it was disclosed today. Official sources said the Merilles swooped across the tribal boundary, shot their way into a segment of Turkana territory with outmoded Austrian and Italian rifles, attacked three villages and killed 23 men before withdrawing. It was the third such attack in four weeks, they said.

Anyone Want to Buy Stocks for Christmas?

By ELMER C. WALZER

NEW YORK (UP)—Here's a list of suggestions for gifts for the person who has all the nice little things, including gold toothpicks:

Buying him a little portfolio of stocks, bonds, preferred stocks, convertible preferreds. These come in prettily engraved certificates and can be purchased on demand at your nearby brokerage office.

That's about the sound of the talk in Wall Street offices these days. The boys are drumming up trade as they always do at this time of year.

This year the prices are cheaper than they've been in early December since 1954 when they were a lot lower.

Easy For Buyer

And the brokers are making it easy for the buyer. Some of them have drawn up lists of packages that would make good gifts.

The firm of Francis I. Du Pont & Co. has just issued a pamphlet on these packages, headed "a present with a future—stocks for Christmas."

Yuletide gifts of shares of American industry provide today's pleasure, tomorrow's income and growth potentialities, says the firm.

The cost runs as low as $500 and as high as $6,000 for diversified grouping of conservative, medium caliber, and more speculative shares.

The $500 gifts are single issues in 10 to 25 share lots.

The firm lists six groups of three stocks each for a $3,000 package. The $6,000 package is made up of seven issues.

There's a $5,000 package of five issues that will provide a dividend check for every month. Then there's a high-yielding $5,000 fund—yield averages 6.5 per cent, and a group listed $5,000 fund for stock dividends or splits."

Also there's a $5,000 one called "quarter century dividend paying club" made up of six issues with a quarter century dividend record.

The two bond groups consist of five bonds each of different companies and cost $5,000 for the giver. Finally there's the $5,000 "double opportunity" portfolio of convertible preferred issues.

Not only would these make good gifts in the eyes of the market men, but they'd be something real good to buy for oneself.

If the prospective investors take the hint boldly labelled in big print, it just could be that trading in stocks and in bonds could get a fairly good lift in the remaining trading days of 1957. Wall Street would regard a bit of real activity as a welcome gift in itself.

Pike Accident Figures Studied

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission today continued its study of accident rate figures on the toll road before making a final decision on where to put up additional guard rails.

Action was postponed on the awarding of contracts at the agency's meeting here Tuesday when state Highways Secretary Lewis M. Stevens questioned whether the 12 miles of guard rails proposed in Westmoreland, Somerset and Bedford counties would be for sections having the highest death toll in crossover accidents.

The estimated $250,000 project was delayed pending complication of accident rates for various sections by the commission's staff.

American Indians attached bird houses made of hollow gourds to their teepees long before Columbus came to America.

Five Day Forecast

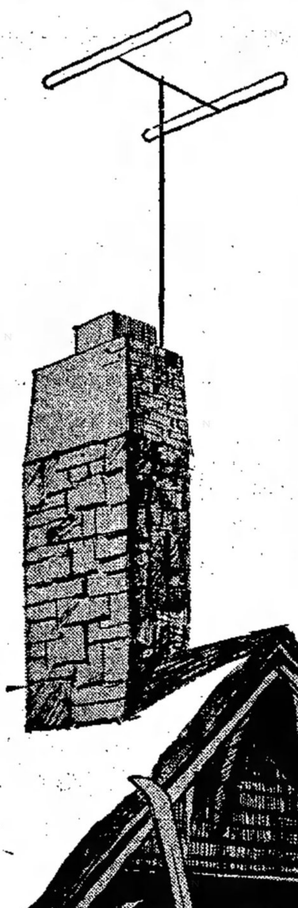
The only 1958 car that offers more of everything you want... yet is priced lower than in '57



Here's great news! While prices of 1958 cars of other manufacturers are up, the price of Ford's exciting new Custom 300 Series is down. In fact, a brand-new 58 Ford Custom 300, with all of its exciting new styling and engineering advances is priced lower than a '57 model, similarly equipped! But there is much more than low price to Ford's value story.

World approved styling. A Custom 300 brings you styling that is dramatically new. With its Honeycombed grille, Slipstream roof, Deep-Sculptured rear deck, Power-Flow hood and Safety-Twin headlights and taillights, Ford styling drew admiring glances all the way from Paris to Saigon . . . yet it's yours now in any Custom 300 without extra cost!

New handling ease. Slide behind the wheel of a Custom 300 and discover just how much fun driving can be. Notice how smoothly it handles. That's Ford's new feather-touch Magic-Circle steering, the next best thing to power steering.

New riding comfort. Notice, too, the solid comfort of your softer, smoother ride. That's Ford's easier acting front and rear suspensions. They soak up the bumps before they reach you. And you'll ride in luxury with Ford's beautiful new deep-dimension interiors!

Thrifty, new engines. You have a wonderful choice of new power plants, designed for real gas-saving economy plus greater performance. Six or V-8, they give you more power, smoother power, from less gas!

Priced as much as $50 lower. A comparison of manufacturer's suggested retail delivered prices shows that a 58 Ford Custom 300 is priced as much as $50 less than the same model for '57! You'll wonder how Ford can offer so many of the things you want in a car priced so low. One big reason: Ford gives you more car for less money because Ford sells more!

See and drive a Custom 300 and you'll agree that these Fords give you more value for your car-buying dollars than any car on the American road today.

Aw, Cut it Out!

SAVOY, Ill. (UP)— The fire department here is doing a slow burn ever since it was assigned a telephone number formerly held by a meat market. Village trustee Willard Koss said housewives who only want to order a pound of pork chops touch off the fire department's alarm horn, and cause telephones to ring in the homes of two volunteer firemen, a gasoline station, the fire station, and a fertilizer agency.

Warns of Inflation in Struggle To Regain Lead in Missile Field

LEBANON, Pa., Dec. 5. (UP)— Elmer C. Walzer, United Press financial editor, said tonight the U.S. could regain the lead over Russia in the scientific field without sacrificing the nation's basic economy, its standard of living or cultural development.

"I'm sure the Russians would like some of our high living standard, and some of the culture we are being polished with," he said. "They'd probably trade a Sputnik or two to get them."

But Walzer warned in a speech before a meeting of the Industrial Management Club of Lebanon of the possibility of inflation if the nation returns to "spending wildly" in a program to "overcome its mythical failures, its lack of scientific education, so-called, its seemingly second place position to Russia."

"I am disappointed over our reticence to let business suffer a little longer and get rid of all its excesses before it sets off on a new ride into the stratosphere," he said. "I'm afraid it won't right all its errors and that it will build a new pyramid on a somewhat shaky foundation. Our debt already is terrific—and there's sure to be more before we get out of this current period of worry over the antics of a nation that puts war material ahead of its people's well-being."

He said he was convinced that many of the decisions in Washington over the next 10 months or so would be "based on politics," because "The 1958 elections are important ones and both parties will make every effort to win them."

Predicts Spreading Demands

"I have a feeling that the three billion dollar dip in industrial spending will be offset by an increase in federal spending alone," Walzer said. "First of all, there's sure to be a loud outcry for education expansion. Politicians are sure to shout for more housing starts.

"Recently there has been talk of a tax cut—good politics in an election year. Then came the Sputniks which brought some talk of a tax increase—mighty poor politics when there are votes to get. So here's probably what will happen—no tax cut, and no tax rise. Same old tax bill with a bigger squeeze by the tax collector."

Walzer said he believed the debt ceiling would be pushed well up from the present 275 billion dollars "and I'm beginning to wonder if the nation won't launch a deficit spending program with an unbalanced budget . . . if so it wouldn't take long to set inflationary forces in motion again."

"Anyhow, there's one thing of which I am convinced, and that is Russia isn't going to get the news it has been hoping for," he said. "It has been saying right along that America will go into a deep depression that will set it back economically for years—'and then comes the revolution.' That's also a Marxian theory.

"Marx didn't reckon and neither did the Russians that the common people of America are to be—and in many cases already are—the real capitalists who own the industries. They aren't going to revolt against their own industries. And the nation isn't going into a depression either—by a long shot."

Just Routine!

TOLEDO, Ohio (UP)—The state Highway Patrol's Sylvania post here delivered a child for Mrs. Bernard Nasbaum Thursday when she and her husband saw they wouldn't make it to a hospital and drove into the patrol parking lot. The patrol dispatcher and two patrolmen are becoming experienced midwives. It was their second delivery in a week.

Big Union Votes on Teamsters

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UP)— The AFL-CIO decides today on booting out the 1,500,000-member Teamsters Union, scarred by scandal and criminal charges against its top leadership.

There was little hope that the federation's largest affiliate would escape expulsion—stiffest penalty organized labor can assess.

The AFL-CIO convention was expected to settle the issue with a roll-call vote on an ouster order expected from an appeals committee which heard Teamsters' protests.

The union, rocked by corruption charges made before the Senate Rackets Committee throughout the year, planned a final plea for mercy to the 1,200 delegates.

Two Thirds Vote Needed

About two thirds of the 13,500,000 votes—cast by membership strength of AFL-CIO unions—were needed to put the Teamsters outside the house of labor.

The Teamsters were denied a vote at the convention after being suspended by the AFL-CIO Executive Council on the advice of its five-man Ethical Practices Committee.

AFL-CIO President George Meany led the fight against the Teamsters and said he favored expulsion unless President - elect James R. Hoffa stepped down from national office in the union.

One of Hoffa's closest advisers, Teamsters official Harold J. Gibbons of St. Louis, arrived here on the eve of the vote. Gibbons said Hoffa was "considering" visiting the convention city tonight.

Hoffa Now On Trial

Hoffa, now on trial on wiretapping charges in New York, was the major target of AFL - CIO charges against the giant truck union.

The stocky, 44-year-old Detroit labor leader was accused of fronting for racketeers and helping himself to union funds. A federal court order blocks him from succeeding retiring president Dave Beck until a trial of charges that he rigged his election.

Union leaders were reported to have told Meany they would regretfully vote for expulsion after the AFL-CIO chief urged "no compromise with evil."

Support for the Teamsters came only in the form of a resolution passed unanimously by the 19 unions of the Building Trades Department. But presidents of many of these craft unions said it was merely a "sympathy" gesture and not binding on the expulsion vote.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"And in closing I want to say, if the shoe fits I hope it pinches."

Child Search Continues

SYCAMORE, Ill. (UP)— About 3,000 persons pushed a house-to-house and area-wide search today in a new mass effort to find clues to the kidnaping and probable murder of 7-year-old Maria Ridulph.

The all-out search effort was launched anew Thursday night after a one day lull while FBI agents and local authorities ran down the few slim clues uncovered so far in the girl's disappearance. The result — "a dead end."

More than 400 homes were searched Thursday night by volunteers who probed through coal bins, empty containers, trash piles and other places where the body of a small girl could be concealed.

About 1,000 persons joined in the house-to-house canvass today and another 2,000 spread out over the surrounding countryside to a distance of 42 miles.

One possible clue turned up by the searchers was a bundle of newspapers found on a country road north of De Kalb near where a bloody towel had been discovered earlier. Sheriff Alf M. Diesz said the Rockford, Crystal Lake and Chicago newspapers contained stories of the slaying of the Grimes sisters in Chicago last December.

"Investigators are in just about the same spot they were at 9 p.m. Tuesday," Diesz said, two hours after a blond, curly-haired young man who called himself "Johnny" offered Maria a "piggy-back" ride and she vanished.

Tough Restriction

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (UP)— Manager Sam B. Hood has slightly relaxed a city charter provision that city employes cannot give Christmas presents to their superiors. Hood instructed department heads they could accept a gift only "if you can eat it, drink it or smoke it in one day."

Heads Loan Fund

WASHINGTON (UP) — Dempster McIntosh, U.S. Ambassador to Venezuela, Thursday was appointed manager of the new development loan fund to provide economic aid to our allies. The program, authorized by Congress earlier this year, substitutes loans for outright grants in the foreign aid program.

Suggests Fancy Yeast Breads for Christmas

Besides fruit cakes and Christmas cookies, Mrs. Miriam R. Long, extension home economist, in Westmoreland county, suggests baking fancy yeast breads for the coming holiday season.

"Yeast breads add glamour to any menu," says Mrs Long. "They make the plainest meal more interesting — whether it's breakfast, brunch, lunch, supper, or dinner. Fancy breads also make different desserts and are good as refreshments when friends get together."

Breads from other countries are delicious and fun to serve, according to Mrs. Long. Some homemakers start with fruit and nut filled breads, such as the German Stollen or the Russian Kulich. Some like the Scandinavian Jule Kaga that contains citron, candied cherries, and nuts with the distinctive flavor of cardamon seeds.

Still others like Italian Panettoni, a bread with pronounced lemon flavor and filled with citron and raisens. Others like Welsh Current Bread, a very spicy loaf filled with citron, currents and raisens. These all contain yeast and have a break-like texture.

Three yeast breads with different textures are the Danish Kruegie which is baked like a jelly roll, the German Coffee Kringle which is baked flat and has an interesting prune filling, and the German Kugelhupf, a batter bread. Serve these breads alone as a dessert or with fruit.

All of these yeast breads can be made ahead and frozen.

Cool thoroughly and wrap in moisture - vapor - proof wrappings and freeze as quickly as possible. Mrs Long advises. When ready to use, either freshen them in the oven or let them thaw naturally in the package. Frozen, they'll keep about a month.

Recipes for these and other glamorous breads are given in a leaflet 183 entitled "Festive Bread for Holidays". This leaflet is available without cost from the Agricultural Extension Office, Post Office Building, Greensburg.

Intrepid Commerce

AURORA, Ill. (UP)—Merchants will hang "men only" signs on their stores next Thursday to provide a "carefree, relaxed atmosphere in which men can perform their Christmas shopping chores without harassment from the female sex."

3 Memorials

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather, Dominick Vagnoni, who died seven years ago today, December 6, 1950.
Seven lonely years have passed away
Since our great sorrow fell.
The shock that we received that day
We still remember well.
Your end was sudden Dad,
It made us weep and cry,
But, oh, the saddest part of all
You never said goodbye.
God gave us strength and courage
To carry the blow, but what it means to miss you
God will only know.
You have taken your long, last journey
In the beautiful ship called Rest
Away from this world of sorrow
To the home of Eternal Rest.
Sadly missed by Wife, Children and Grandchildren

South, West Winning War Between States For New Industry

By ROBERT SHORTAL

NEW YORK (UP)—The South and West appear to be winning the economic tug-of-war between the states for new industry.

A national survey by United Press showed that those two areas have scored the biggest gains in manufacturing employment since 1940.

The Middle Atlantic and New England states have suffered the sharpest declines in past 17 years, while the percentage of national manufacturing employment has held fairly steady in most other regions.

The survey revealed that older industrial centers have lost ground and smaller communities are winning out in the industry-wooing contest.

Every State In Fight

Almost every state is engaged in the fight to attract new industries. Some have gone into the fray to a greater degree than others. The South, for instance, is seeking to obtain a better balance between manufacturing and agriculture. New England is striving to fill the void created by the exodus of its textile industry to the South.

States such as Mississippi, Louisiana, Colorado, Florida, Massachusetts, New York, Minnesota and Pennsylvania have enjoyed considerable degrees of success.

State promotional agencies spent an estimated 37 million dollars this year to get a piece of the more than 37 billion dollars that industry spent for new plants and equipment.

Their efforts to lure industry to their regions and states have turned into a coast-to-coast promotional contest using all the weapons, skills and techniques of Madison Avenue and Hollywood, plus a few home-grown innovations.

Tax Exemption Bait

The bait being offered to industry includes tax exemptions, plants constructed with municipal funds, and, in the case of Maine, even FHA-type guarantees for mortgages on industrial plants.

However, the two strongest selling features—the ones industry really looks at—are nearness to markets and raw materials and the availability of labor.

At the present time, 10 states permit their municipalities to issue bonds for the construction of plants; 11 states allow temporary local property tax exemptions, 15 states have development credit corporations and several others have local non-profit corporations set up to bring in new business.

Mississippi has paced the nation's industrial progress in the past 10 years, adding more than 400 new plants and 45,000 new jobs.

John M. Walker Wants to Run For Governor

PITTSBURGH (UP) — John M. Walker, Allegheny County commissioner, was listed Wednesday by the Pittsburgh Press as desiring the Republican nomination for governor of Pennsylvania.

Walker will throw his hat in the ring before Christmas, the Press said.

The commissioner was one of five possible candidates from Western Pennsylvania reported by the Scripps Howard paper to be interested in seeking the nomination.

Others listed were Judge Henry X. O'Brien of Allegheny County Common Pleas Court; House Speaker Stuart Helm, Kittanning; U.S. Rep. John P. Saylor, Johnstown, and William S. Livengood Jr., Somerset.

Walker, serving his second term as a minority commissioner, was a state senator for 16 years and Senate Republican leader before being elected to the county post.

Secretary Sues

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — Mrs. Gladys Reinhardt, a secretary, has filed suit for a half interest in the royalties on "White Silver Sands," hit song of the past several months. Mrs. Reinhardt claimed C. G. Matthews, who wrote the lyrics, deprived her of the share she is entitled to for writing the melody.

Cold Cream Is Friend In Winter

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Try cold cream for protection during cold weather.

Skin chapping is a universal problem, but it is especially likely to occur in cold, dry and windy weather. This can mean severe damage to the skin.

Under such climatic conditions, the air absorbs more water than usual from your skin. As it is, most American women have dry skin, anyway.

Without anything to protect the skin, you are ap. to develop flaking and roughness .on your face, lips and hands.

Unless proper treatment is begun, the chapped areas might become cracked, red and swollen. Really bad .chapping sometimes results in open bleeding and crusting.

Probably one of the best ways of preventing chapping, and also treating it after it has occurred, is to apply a greasy film to the exposed areas. This helps cut the skin's water loss.

Obviously, the simplest way of doing this is to rub cold cream on the areas. Most cold creams, today, are soothing to skin.

Applying cold cream before exposure to the elements helps prevent chapping. Using it on areas already chapped soothes the tissues and provides protection from further injury.

Of course you should avoid washing the chapped areas any more than is necessary. And then you should use only water, no soap or detergents.

Be sure to dry the skin thoroughly because rapid evaporation of water makes the skin more susceptible to chapping.

While cold cream generally can be applied to normal skin without harm, it might be well for anyone with excessively oily skin conditions, such as acne, to avoid its use.

Question and Answer

J.B.: Is it true that there is a blood test that can detect cancer in the body?

Answer: Up to the present time, no accurate, practical test has been devised to detect cancer by means of a blood test. However, research is being carried out toward this end.

Boogie Woogie Now Socialized

Berlin (UP)—The East German Communists today announced the acceptance of a "socialist" version of boogie woogie. The Soviet zone newspaper National Zeitung reported that the Communist regime has lifted its ban on any dance livelier than a waltz or foxtrot. East Germans now may dance such western imports as the mambo, cha-cha, calypso and boogie woogie, if danced "rhythmically and aesthetically" with "capitalist" features discarded.

From Hollywood—

Sullivan, Allen Have Real Fight on Hands

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Ed Sullivan and Steve Allen have called off their rating feud to battle a common enemy, a pair of mavericks named Bret and Bart.

Big surprise of the 1957-58 TV season is the way "Maverick" has stolen the thunder (and audience) from the two big variety wheels.

On the air only 11 weeks, the hour-long horse opera passed Allen in the Trendex rating the second week out of the barn. It took six weeks to catch Sullivan. Now that it's out front, "Maverick" is pulling away fast. Last Sunday it trounced Allen by eight points and Sullivan by five.

The show scared Jack Benny by coming within seven digits of his show.

Success of the new entry is credited to its rough and tumble stars, Jim Barner (Bret) and Jack Kelly (Bart), who are as roguishly hell - for - leather off screen as they are on the program.

Won't Needle Opposition

Both are delighted their show is whipping the opposition, but they refuse to needle the shipping emcees.

During lunch the big guys spent their time ribbing one another about Kelly joining the show six weeks after it went on the air.

"Turning out an hour show on film was too much for one actor," Garner explained. "I was working 14 hours a day, and we were falling behind schedule. So we decided to write a brother into the script."

"That's his story," Kelly put in brashly. "The ratings were lousy and they needed some real talent to pull it out of the hole."

"He's crazy," Garner fired back. "We needed comedy relief, and believe me, Jack's funny in this role, even though the script doesn't call for laughs."

"Just check the ratings," Kelly said. "The show didn't beat Allen until I joined up."

Chide Each Other

"Don't think I'm jealous or anything," Garner grinned, "I'm trying to help Jack along. He doesn't even know how to ride a horse."

The boys fell to eating lunch, muttering vile things about one another.

Asked who played the younger brother, they answered in chorus, "Me!" This led to another explosive hassle.

Warner Brothers Studio, which films the ABC-TV show, says Kelly is 30. Garner 29. Both stand over six feet tall. Garner might get the best of it in a free-for-all. He outweighs his TV brother by 20 pounds.

If Warners decides to write more brothers into the script the studio might well consider Sullivan and Allen. They still have fairly large followings.

Gas Rate Increase In Butler County

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Prospect Oil and Gas Co., Chicora, today proposed an estimated $7,480 annual natural gas rate increase for 692 consumers in Butler County next Feb. 1.

The Public Utility Commission said the proposed boost was filed to meet higher operating costs. Under the new schedule the charge for the first 1,000 cubic feet a month would go up from $1.25 to $1.40. All use over that amount would cost 78 cents per 1,000 cubic feet instead of 70 cents.

Great Men Feature of New Show

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP)—The channel swim . . .

Mike Wallace hopes to unpackage a test program in his projected series, "The Great Men," on his regular ABC-TV show Dec. 28. The trial run would feature Wallace in an interview with Socrates. The go-ahead hangs on the okay of Paul Muni who's been asked to play the Greek philosopher.

Lynn Dollar, who stepped out as girl guide on "The $64,000 Question" to await the arrival of her first baby, will have it delivered by Dr. Francis Salvatore, the obstetrician who won $32,000 on the show in the food and cooking category. Dr. Salvatore also ushered in Mrs. Hal March's baby this year.

Como Goes West

All four of the singers on "Your Hit Parade" had their options renewed this week, but musical director Don Walker (he replaced Raymond Scott) got the gate . . . Perry Como is talking about moving his NBC-TV show to the West Coast for two weeks in February.

Judy Lewis, daughter of Loretta Young, is one of the candidates for the title role in "Kitty Foyle," new CBS-TV afternooner that uncorks on Jan. 13 . . . Ed Gardner, the "Archie" of "Duffy's Tavern," is working on an NBC radio series that would involve his 9-year-old, Stevie.

ABC-TV is just about set for a musical chairs bit — it wants to move "Walter Winchell File" to the "Patrice Munsel" spot which would move to the "Date With The Angels" spot which would move to Winchell's spot.

"Person To Person," which usually runs into problems because its guests live too far from Manhattan, ran into a weirdy for tonight's visit with Arlene Dahl and Fernando Lamas. The couple live so close (five blocks) to CBS-TV relay equipment on the Empire State Building that no signal could be transmitted. Murrow's crew solved the knot by installing a special antenna on the more distant Chrysler Building.

Viveca Lindfors and Eva la Gallienne will join the cast of "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," CBS-TV spec set for Jan. 21 . . . "Omnibus," which has done James Agee's "Abe Lincoln" three times, is considering a fourth run of the 90-minute film for Feb. 9 show.

Offspring To Sing

Leon Janney of CBS-TV's "Edge of Night" is leaving the afternoon series for a Broadway play, "A Shadow of My Enemy" . . . Frank Sinatra is going to present his daughter, Nancy, and Bing Crosby's son, Lindsay, as a singing team on one of his future ABC-TV entries.

Glenn Ford, who'll narrate CBS-TV's public service film, "A Day Called X" this Sunday, worked on the show for scale—$80 . . . Orson Welles, heading for a fat contract with ABC-TV, has notified CBS-TV that he's pulling out of its "Shower of Stars" show for Jan. 9.

Marion Stafford gets the job as replacement for Pat White as pirate girl on NBC-TV's "Treasure Hunt" — Pat's expecting her second treasure in June . . . Bill Demarest was offered a permanent job on the "Danny Thomas Show" as father - in - law, but said no thanks.

Part of the Game

HOLLYWOOD (UP)— Georgia peach Joanna Moore says she means it when she insists she'd dye for her movie career. In three pictures her hair — at producers' orders — has been honey blonde, dark blonde, peach blonde and, currently, golden blonde for "The Dark Shore."

Morning Star Class of Webster In Annual Fete

The Morning Star Class of Webster Presbyterian Church held its annual Christmas party Wednesday at Olive Branch Baptist Church. The women of Olive Branch Church served a full course turkey dinner to 24 persons.

The Class had the Phylathia Class of the same church as guests.

Mrs. Lillie Snyder was in charge of the program, which opened with the singing of Christmas carols. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Irwin. Scripture was from the second chapter of Matthew. The topic was "This is the Master."

Margaret Riedel, president, conducted the business session and heard reports from Lillie Snyder, secretary, and Dorothy Byers, treasurer. Mrs. Snyder also gave the biography of the class for 1957.

It was reported that $85 in CARE packages has been sent by the church to Korea. The Class had a part in this money-raising project to help needy Koreans.

A recipe shower was held for Carol Hughes Trembush. Games were played and a fellowship session followed.

Pricedale Church Mission Society Holds Meeting

The Missionary Society of Pricedale Union Church met Wednesday evening for a regular meeting with the Rev. Paul Sweitzer in charge.

The meeting opened by the singing of "Send the Light" and "Throw Out the Life-Line." Prayer by the leader followed and the lesson was from the second chapter of the 1st Psalm. Prayers were offered by Mary Echart, Mary Bush, Mary Worrell and Clarence Bush.

Business was in charge of Dorothy Bush, president. Reports were given by Mary Worrell, secretary, and Mary Echart, treasurer. A letter was read from New Tribes Mission by Doris Bush and another from Mrs. Dunn in England.

The society will pack baskets for the needy for Christmas. Canned goods are to be brought to Sunday School this Sunday and also the following Sunday. The public is invited to contribute.

Smocks Go Hunting

Robert Smock Sr. and Elridge Smock, R. D., Belle Vernon, and Robert Smock Jr., stationed with the Navy in Bainbridge, Md., are hunting this week in Potter County.

The United States Weather bureau's record for the rainiest single minute is held by the resort settlemen' of Opid's camp in California. Almost two-thirds of an inch of water fell there in the space of one minute on April 5, 1926.

Women Forbidden Security on Job

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Justice Department has ruled that women employes of the state who enlist in the armed services are not entitled to military leave job security.

The opinion said women were not covered by military leave legislation because they do not enter the service involuntarily or to satisfy a draft obligation.

In another opinion, the department held that all employment agencies in the state and their representatives must pay a $25 license fee to operate in the state.

Aircraft Industry Is Suffering Big Decline

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UP)—The contract cancellations, reductions and stretch-outs that hit the aircraft industry last summer are adding up to a cold winter for thousands of laid-off defense workers.

A recent survey of 22 major aviation firms by Aviation Week Magazine found that firings will exceed 40,000 by the end of the year, on the basis of current planning.

The aircraft industry on Long Island, represented by Republic, Grumman and Fairchild, comprised 10 per cent of Long Island's 500,000 wage and salary workers. Republic Aviation, which once employed 30,000, now is down to 10,000. The company had to lay off 8,300 workers this year, more than half the 14,400 defense workers out of work on the island.

Total unemployment on the island last month was 16,100, more than double last year's figure of 7,900. Seasonal layoffs in the construction field led to the November unemployment rise.

The aircraft workers have had some encouragement from defense budget reports out of Washington. Republic recently recalled 545 workers, with 30 more expected this week. Justin Ostro, president of Lodge 1987, International Association of Machinists, said at Republic that the unofficial Air Force acceptance of the F105 jet fighter bomber led to the recalls. Ostro reported that some, probably no more than 100, skilled workers have moved away to jobs in New Jersey, Florida or California. But the overwhelming majority are sticking around, hoping to be recalled or, failing that, getting jobs in other fields on Long Island.

The "stay put" atmosphere dominates these defense workers. Recently this was demonstrated when a representative from an out of state industry came along and signed up 100 former Republic employes. A few days before the men were to move, Republic began rehiring. Ninety-nine of the 100 recruits thereupon decided against leaving. They'll stick around and hope that more big defense contracts land at Republic.
